THREE SUSPECTS ARE NOW IN JAIL FOR ROBBERY

Part of Gang of Crafton Burglars Believed to Be Captured.

TWO POLICEMEN WERE INJURED

One of Wounded Officers Positively Identified All Three Men Arrested.

TWO OTHERS ARE STILL AT LIBERTY

Noise of Explosion and Fusillade Between Police and Burglars Aroused Entire Town—News Was Telephoned to McKees Rocks.

Three of the five men alleged to have robbed the store of Daub & Pressler at Crafton early yesterday morning, wounding Policemen Edward Westcott and Elias Peak, borough officers, are in the Allegheny county jail. Their two accomplices are still at liberty although the police for hundreds of miles around are looking for them.

The three men, who were arrested by the McKees Rocks police yesterday morning within a few hours of the robbery, gave their names as Edward Lawson, Alonzo Black and Joseph Sullivan. Policeman Westcott went to McKees Rocks yesterday morning, identified all three and afterward charged them with burglary before Justice Charles F. Engle of McKees Rocks, who committed them to jail in default of bail.

According to the story told by the Crafton policemen the burglars entered Daub & Pressler's store about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The policemen were at that time at the other end of the borough. After drilling a hole in the safe door they put in a charge of dynamite and set it off just as a train went rumbling by.

Policemen Were Near.

While the burglars were drilling into the safe the two police officers were walking toward the building, unconscious that anything was wrong. They were but a short distance away when the explosion occurred. They heard it distinctly above the noise of the train.

Both rushed in the direction of the store. D. L. Ritchie, the station agent, who was standing at a window, saw the flash and heard the roar as the explosion occurred. He was also seen by the burglars and the outside man opened fire on him to keep him from interfering.

Westcott and Peak arrested the outside robber and Officer Peak put "nippers" on him. Just then another man ran up, struck Peak on the head with a chisel and shot Westcott. The latter returned the fire and hit his man in the upper arm or shoulder.

Aided Their Pals.

The rest of the party, three in number, hurried out of the store and closed in about the four struggling men. Peak relinquished his hold on the hand cuffs when he was hit with the chisel. Westcott only shot once or twice, as immediately after Peak fell the thieves ran away. They fired back at the two policemen, but did not hit them again.

Immediately after the firing ceased citizens began coming out of their doors. Peak was lynk in the street, apparently dead. Westcott, with some help, picked him up and started for Dr. Reed's office, while he sent a posse of citizens to overtake the thieves.

After a fruitless search the posse returned with nothing but some checks and papers belonging to Daub & Pressler. Among them was an envelope containing $25 or $28 that had been dropped with other stuff as worth nothing.

Mr. Daub said yesterday afternoon that so far as he and his partner could determine they had lost nithing but the safe, which was ruined, and $25 in change.

Alarm Sent Out.

Station Agent Ritchie got into telephone communication with the authorities of Carnegie, McKees Rocks, Pittsburgh and other places near. David Kellert, a McKees Rocks policeman, got the word there, and immediately sent for the chief of police, W. J. Lampert. Chief Lampert did not arrive and Officer Kellar assumed charge. He told Officers Thomas Glancey and Tony Kaine to watch for all suspicious people. He sent Officer Kanle back to his beat among the bottoms and started with Officer Glancey for the white bridge to wait for the arrival of the thieves across country.

Kanle had hardly returned to his beat when he saw two men standing behind telephone poles near the yards of the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny railway. These men he questioned, and when they could not answer his questions satisfactorily he took them to the borough lockup. They gave their names as Edward Lawson and Alonzo Black, both under 25 years of age. They said they

BOROUGH SALOONS WITHOUT LICENSES HOLD BARGAIN SALES.

"Bargain Sales of Booze," "Biggest Bowl of Booze in the Borough" and similar signs were common last night on saloons in some of the boroughs. These saloons quit business at midnight because of a failure to obtain a license for the year beginning today.

In some whisky was advertised at 25 cents a quart, wine 15 cents a quart, a big drink of whisky for 5 cents, or if the purchaser preferred, he could procure two glasses of beer for the same price.

East Pittsburgh was particularly lively. The two glasses of beer for a nickel did not last long, because the beer was soon all consumed at that low "closing out" price. The crowd then bought wine at 15 cents a quart. At some places bottles were not furnished at the low price, and as a result all kinds of vessels, from bottles to jugs and tin cans were common. One man with a pitcher and two tin cans of liquor had apparently imbibed as much as he had in the vessels.

In some of the places "barkers" were at the doors to invite the people in and tell them in advance of how much better the liquor was in that place than in another near by. One man secured an organ grinder to attract custom.

SENATOR QUAY SATISFIED THAT ELKIN CANNOT WIN

Veteran Leader Assured the Members of the Pennsylvania Delegation of Final Harmony at Convention.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 503 Fifteenth St., N. W. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.

Senator Quay returned this morning from his week's absence in the state, and was in his seat when the senate convened at noon. Shortly afterward he went to his committee room and there had an extended conference with Senator Penrose and Republican members of the Pennsylvania delegation who called to ascertain the results of the senator's trip. The senator told them all that he was entirely satisfied with the political situation in the state and was certain that the state convention in June would nominate a popular ticket that would be elected by a rousing majority and carry with it the congressional, county and legislative tickets of the party.

During his absence he had met representative Republicans from every county in the state and was assured of their hearty support in his determination to prevent Attorney General Elkin and the state machine from controlling the convention. The senator's information was to the effect that Mr. Elkin would not have more than 100 delegates in the convention, and, in fact, would not have that number if some of his instructed delegates should be needed. A number of these delegates assured the senator that they were instructed for Mr. Elkin under a misapprehension, as it had been believed that he was the choice of Senator Quay and the other leaders.

Elkin's Nomination Not Expected.

Senator Quay was also advised by several of Mr. Elkin's closest followers that they do not expect him to be nominated, and some of them stated that Mr. Elkin admitted that he could not be, but was compelled to remain in the contest and make a showing in the convention.

The senator expects to remain here until May 15, when he will be in Beaver county attending the Republican primaries. It is possible, however, that the senator may go to Donegal for a short visit with ex-Senator Cameron. He received today a brief note from his former colleague on a private matter, and it is possible that the two may have a meeting with other friends at Donegal before many days. Insurance Commissioner Durham is expected here from the Virginia Hot Springs tomorrow on his way to Philadelphia, and will have a conference with Senators Quay and Penrose, at which plans will be perfected for carrying on the fight for uninstructed delegates to the convention.

Among the members of the Pennsylvania delegation the impression is strong tonight that ex-Senator Cameron is positively out of the contest for governor, and the majority of the members are hoping that the same fate will befall Maj. Gen. Brooke.

Gen. Brooke Has Few Supporters.

With the exception of Representative Bingham of Philadelphia, Gen. Brooke cannot count a supporter among the other 27 members of the delegation. All scout at the advisability of nominating Gen. Brooke, and are hopeful that he will not be selected by the convention, and an old soldier is to be selected they urge that some one identified with the state be chosen. None of the members can see any strength in the nomination of Gen. Brooke, and fear the effect of placing in the executive mansion at Harrisburg a man who is a soldier only and not a statesman or a man of affairs.

There is an impression afloat in the delegation that the lightning may strike among the members of the Pennsylvania delegation and select one of two who have been but little discussed in connection with the nomination. Representative Olmsted of Harrisburg and Palmer of Wilkesbarre are the men under suspicion. While Mr. Olmsted has been mentioned Mr. Palmer never has been. It is known, however, that each is willing. Mr. Palmer was generally regarded here as the champion of Mr. Watres for this nomination, but it is now believed that he had expectations himself, and hoped that the lightning might strike him.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

Preparing for the Struggle.

HARRISBURG, PA., April 30.—(Special.)—Friends of Senator Quay will hold a caucus in the board of trade auditorium the day before the Republican state convention to agree on a program. This is one of the largest assembly rooms in the city, and when the Elkinites learned today that it had been rented by the Quayites they were more willing to admit that the attorney general's fight was hopeless.

Senator Quay will probably be a guest at the home of Judge Weiss during his visit here to attend the convention, although he will have his headquarters at the board of trade. This hall has been engaged for all day of June 10 and it is here that Senator Quay will meet the delegates and the leaders of the various counties.

An attempt is being made by Elkin to create sentiment for him among the old soldiers by a ready-made interview with Capt. W. H. H. Markey, one of the Franklin county delegates issued tonight, in which he says that he has a large acquaintance with the members of the Grand Army, throughout the state and that his information is that they favor Elkin's nomination.

QUAY IS SAID TO WANT TORRANCE TO MAKE THE RUN

Latest Gossip Puts Allegheny Man Forward Again as a Possibility.

SAMUEL C. GRIER FOR HIM

The latest bit of political gossip is to the effect that Senator M. S. Quay is urging Francis J. Torrance of Allegheny to enter into a contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination against Attorney General John P. Elkin. Mr. Torrance wants time to consider the proposition, and Senator Quay has agreed to wait 10 days for his answer.

Mr. Torrance left last night on a business trip to Montreal, Boston and New York. He said before leaving that he would see Senator Quay in Washington or Philadelphia before his return. He expects to be gone 10 days.

A few weeks ago Mr. Torrance announced through The Gazette that he would not be a candidate for governor. At that time Attorney-General Elkin was supposed to have practically a clear field for the nomination. Senator Quay's open declaration against Elkin came later and this is said to have been followed by an earnest request from the Beaver statesman that Mr. Torrance announce his candidacy.

Grier Is for Torrance.

The Allegheny city organization leaders are booming Mr. Torrance for the nomination and are insisting in their efforts to persuade him to run. Samuel C. Grier, an Allegheny leader and a state delegate, said yesterday that he was in favor of Torrance and seemed inclined to believe that Mr. Torrance would allow his name to go before the state convention. "I am for Torrance. There is no man in Pennsylvania whom I would rather see governor," said Mr. Grier. "I have never heard that Mr. Torrance had declared positively that he would not be a candidate," added Mr. Grier, significantly.

The Citizens claim that the Allegheny city hall politicians have a selfish motive in trying to persuade Mr. Torrance to announce his candidacy. They assert the object is to keep Mr. Torrance out of the Citizens movement in the county this fall.

Mr. Torrance said last night that he had no ambition to be governor and thought that the nomination should not come to Western Pennsylvania this time.

Wyman Disappoints Citizens.

The Citizens are disappointed that Mayor Wyman of Allegheny hesitates to enlist with them and assert that his refusal may lose him the support of the Citizens in the contest for the Allegheny recordership in 1903. Although some of his lieutenants have joined the Citizens movement ex-Mayor Wyman has so far kept out of the county fight and has announced that he will make a fight for the recordership irrespective of factions.

There are some who express the opinion that Wyman is not averse to a compromise with his Allegheny opponents and may make a deal to gain support for recordership aspirations. In this event Mayor Charles A. Geyer would have to be reckoned with, as he has declared that he will be a candidate for recorder whether the city hall organization supports him or not.

Kentuckey Negro Lynched.

BRANDENBURG, KY., April 30.—Ernest Dawley, a negro, was lynched here today for shooting Harry Dowell, a young white man. The negro attempted to shoot a saloonkeeper who ejected him from his tavern, but the bullet struck Dowell instead.

Sol Smith Russell at Rest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—The remains of the late Sol Smith Russell, the actor, were interred this afternoon in Rock Creek cemetery.

SOME MANUFACTURERS HAD TO FURNISH LOCOMOTIVES

In Order to Get Material for Mills During Congestion They Used Their Own Shifting Engines.

The severity of the freight blockade in and about Pittsburgh can hardly be understood by any except those who have had to deal with it. But it is an awfully impressive thing to the manager of a plant with urgent orders to fill, who has neither materials out of which to manufacture the product or suitable cars into which to load his goods when ready for shipment. There have been cases, a good many of them, wherein manufacturers have taken their shifting engines out of their yards to transport materials over the railroads, either from mines or from stock piles stored at other plants.

That sort of business naturally interfered with the yard work, and when, under such circumstances, the railroads charge demurrage upon cars not unloaded, the manufacturer seems to have just cause for complaint. He has no recourse when his car of finished products lies for days or weeks upon the railroad company's siding—an inconvenience that has become chronic in the Pittsburgh district.

Railroads Have Blundered.

In the effort to help matters the railroads have sometimes blundered. For example, an order was issued on the Pennsylvania to reserve all gondolas for the use of steel manufacturers, and under no circumstances to load that style of cars with coke, coal or ore. The result has been much extra shifting and a greater dearth of cars. One mill manager complains that this order necessitated the handling of one-third more cars in his yards than if his coal and ore had been shipped in gondolas, so he might have reloaded them as soon as they were unloaded.

Several traffic men confirmed the justice of this complaint by saying that their only relief was obtained from receiving materials in cars which they could reload with product, though all admitted that if gondolas had been loaded with coal or coke for points outside the Pittsburgh district conditions would have been much worse.

Shutting Down Furnaces Is Serious.

To the uninitiated it may seem a small thing for a furnace to shut down for a day or a week. The furnace men know better. Stoppage for a day means shutting off the hot blast and trusting to the consumption of coke by natural draught to keep the flux warm. There is always danger of a "chill," that is, metal cooling at the sides and adhering to the walls. Such a condition is likely to cause a "hang" or an explosion, or both.

A stoppage for more than a day necessitates banking the furnace, that is, running out the flux and filling up with coke. That means consumption of fuel at a reduced rate without any product. There is hardly a furnace in the Pittsburgh region that has not been compelled to shut off blast or to bank during the past few months. To avoid these shutdowns and their attendant dangers some of them have resorted to "running on slack wind," or at less than the full blast. This reduces output, and, while it may prolong the life of a lining, is far from satisfactory to the manufacturer who is behind with his orders and a believer in the "American practice."

Delays in ore shipments were so great during the winter that when cars were delivered it was necessary to use dynamite to get the cargo in condition for unloading. Ore lying along the road for a month or two in cars, accumulating ice and snow, has been found harder to dig out of cars than it was to mine up on the ranges. No inconsiderable loss accrued from this cause alone.

The actual restriction of product does not measure the full delinquency of the railroads, either. Before the blockade began most of the mills, furnaces, glass houses and factories generally had material stored for emergencies. The stock piles have disappeared. It may fairly be estimated that the furnaces alone have

LABOUCHERE SAYS BRITISH TRADE SUPREMACY IS DOOMED

(Copyright Cable to the Gazette.)

LONDON, April 30.—Mr. Henry Labouchere, in this week's Truth, under the heading of "Morganeering and the Moral," says in part:

"To the impartial observer it is a trifle amusing to watch the perturbation of John Bull at the march of the American capitalist. For a generation or two past, the gospel of salvation of mankind by the agency of British capital has been preached with sincere conviction by British politicians and business men. Now comes a little turning of tables.

"But at the present crisis of our economic history, what are the objects which chiefly occupy our minds? The regeneration of South Africa by the introduction into that accursed land of British capital and labor, the expansion of our army at the expense of the labor market, squandering time, money and energy on the empty ostentation of the coronation ceremony, which will suspend industry, dislocate trade and divert public thought from matters of pressing and vital import.

"At the moment while we are thus engaged Mr. Pierpont Morgan and his colleagues descend upon us, seeking what they may devour. Almost within an hour of the king's feast come forth the fingers of a man's hand and write upon the wall. It needs no prophet in this case to interpret the writing. It is easy to read the warning and not difficult to accept and act upon it. Shall we attend to it at once, or shall we finish our wine and think about the Medes and Persians after the dessert?"

RECEPTION ENDS CASSATT'S VISIT TO PITTSBURGH

Iron City's Leading Men Met the Pennsylvania Railroad Executive.

H. C. FRICK'S HOME WAS THE SCENE

Three Hours Devoted to Greeting Representatives of Pittsburgh's Industries.

GENERAL BELIEF IN BIG REDUCTIONS

The Official Party Spends Forenoon and Afternoon Inspecting Industries Along the Ft. Wayne and Panhandle as Far as Mingo Junction.

The visit of President Alexander J. Cassatt and other prominent officials of the Pennsylvania railroad to Pittsburgh was concluded last evening at one of the most notable functions ever held in this city. The captains of commerce of Pittsburgh gathered at "Clayton," the handsome home of Henry Clay Frick, at Penn and Homewood avenues, between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock to meet President Cassatt. In response to the invitations sent out by Mr. Frick almost all of Pittsburgh's most prominent manufacturers, bankers, brokers, politicians and professional men were present.

A more representative gathering of Pittsburgh men has probably never been seen. Because of the large number of guests, but little time was given to individual greetings. For more than half the guests were shown into the drawing room in which Mr. Frick stood. Mr. Frick had arranged personally with the guests who were invited, but of such a character that it would be required their names. Mr. Frick introduced them to Mr. Cassatt. For several hours they received in this manner.

Decorations Were Elaborate.

The entire lower floor of the house was thrown open for this occasion, and flowers were lavishly used in an effective way and an orchestra stationed behind a screen of green in the reception halls and drawing rooms rendered a number of popular musical selections during the entire evening.

In a drawing room on the right-hand side of the hall from the main entrance hall Mr. Frick and Mr. Cassatt received, and in the solarium, were others of the party of Pennsylvania railroad officials assisting with the guests. The entire house was thrown open. By far the greater number of those present availed themselves of the chance to inspect the famous collection of paintings which adorns Mr. Frick's home. Throughout the evening luncheon was served in the rooms devoted for the time to that purpose.

All the arrangements were perfect, and when the end was reached at 12 o'clock all of officials betook themselves to the train awaiting them at Homewood to start on the trip back to Philadelphia, must have been with a feeling of satisfaction with regard to this Pittsburgh visit.

Some of Those Who Were Present.

The officials of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh included James McCrea, first vice president; Joseph Wood, second vice president; E. B. Thomas, fourth vice president; S. B. Liggett, secretary, and Col. S. M. Church, assistant secretary; S. C. Scott, assistant to the first vice president; J. J. Brooks, general counsel; A. P. Burgwin and L. L. Gilbert, assistant counsel, and J. F. Orr, general freight agent, northwest system.

Among the many prominent men present were Thomas S. Bigelow and Mrs. Bigelow, Recorder J. O. Brown, Robert J. Gay McCandless, William Flinn, George H. Flinn, John R. McGinley, President D. C. Risley of the United States Glass Company, Clarence Rogers, director John W. Beaty of the Carnegie art galleries, Capt. John H. Jones of Pittsburgh coal exchange fame, Thomas M. McElroy of the Citizens' National bank, President W. S. Haseltine of the Pittsburgh Stock exchange, Wilson Mellon, James Carothers, A. J. Logan, Thomas Herron, A. W. Mellon, Andrew Chapman, Edward D. Duff, W. S. Haseltine, Jr., Thomson Mercer, Representative Chris. Magee, Hosack, W. C. Gearing, Charles Donnelly, Charles McKnight, W. L. Conner, Lawrence C. A. Palmer, J. S. Ferguson, John G. Holmes, Durbin Horne, Marsh, R. J. Stoney, W. B. Rodgers, C. C. Huff, Greensburg; Judge Shafer, Judge W. P. Potter, Col. Thaxford and Col. J. M. Schoonmaker.

Many Points Were Inspected.

Yesterday was a busy day for the Pennsylvania officials. In the special train that conveyed them here they went over the Fort Wayne and Cleveland & Pittsburgh roads by way of Rochester to Mingo Junction, carefully inspecting the industrial plants distributed along the banks of the Ohio river, and not failing to notice at Mingo Junction the preparations being made by the Wabash for the extension to Pittsburgh. The piers for the bridge across the river at that point are well under way, and evidences of other construction work are in evidence.

The return trip to Pittsburgh was made over the Panhandle. In the afternoon the party also took a trip over the Chartiers branch to see the development and growth of manufacturing industries along the Ohio river. A visit was also noted by the party to Neville island.

Returning, the party left Pittsburgh in the afternoon to [illegible]

It provides that licensees must not have or permit vocal or instrumental music upon the licensed premises for the purpose of either attracting or retaining customers, nor shall they have or keep in the bar room or in any room adjoining or connecting therewith any slot machine, weighing machine, blowing or lifting machine or other similar device.

The hearing of applicants for liquor licenses before Judges Frazer and Rodgers was completed yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

When court opened yesterday Judge Frazer announced a supplementary list of decisions. The Hotel Schenley bar was among the lot. Annie McCutcheon, who was substituted for her husband, who died after making application, received a bottler's license in the Fifteenth ward.

In the Thirty-second ward Antoinette Bredenik, who was substituted for a deceased son, was granted. John Mosley, Second ward, Homestead, was also granted, as were Melchoir Wolf and P. O. Young, wholesalers of Jefferson township, whose applications were held back pending the granting of the retailers in that township.

Attorney Leon J. Long asked the court for information concerning applicants who were granted but unable to secure their certificates by night. He wanted to know if they must close. "That is the law," said Judge Frazer, "if they do not get them today they must close."

CARNEGIE REVEALS A NEWSPAPER PARADISE

Will Own Papers Where Everyone Will Be an Editor and Joy Will Reign Supreme.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—At last the patient, willing, downtrodden, long-suffering, non-complaining reporter is to have a chance. Andrew Carnegie announced today that he has in contemplation the purchase of a chain of newspapers in the United States, and he is to give reporters of his acquaintance all the fat jobs. Every reporter in New York and Pittsburgh knows Andrew Carnegie. If he makes good, each of his papers will have six managing editors, 22 assistant managing editors, 44 city editors, 66 Sunday editors, 442 "pug" editors, to say nothing of night editors, sporting editors, suburban editors, foreign editors and make-up editors. All of which opens up the prospect that there will be nobody to do the real work.

"I am in earnest about this," said Mr. Carnegie, just before he sailed for England on the St. Louis today. "I have had it in my mind for a long time, and quite soon I may think well to materialize the idea. My design is to purchase a number of newspaper properties and give all you boys good, permanent jobs. Anything I can do to better the newspapermen will give me infinite satisfaction."

Close inspection of Mr. Carnegie failed to reveal any evidence that he was in a trance. He is going to Scotland for six months.

FT. WAYNE WANTS TOO MUCH.

Allegheny Council Committee Expresses Itself Contrary to Powers That Be.

A sub-committee of the public works committee of Allegheny councils dared to go against the wishes of Recorder John R. Murphy and Director Robert McAfee last night, when it passed a resolution to the effect that the proposition of the Fort Wayne railroad company is not adequate for the franchises asked for the rebuilding of the Superior run bridge. The railroad company wants more yard room at that point, and has asked for the vacation of certain streets.

Murphy and McAfee made long addresses to the committee and endeavored to show that the proposed change would be very advantageous to some of the property owners. Supt. W. C. Cushing of the railroad was also of the opinion that the railroad was being very liberal in offering to rebuild one of its own bridges. A week ago the committee visited the site and found that a number of property owners would be considerably injured.

MANY WORKMEN ARE AFFECTED BY MAY DAY STRIKE

CONTRACTORS ARE FIRM

Carpenters, Structural Workers, Tile Setters, Roofers, Wiremen, Tinners and Bricklayers Are Involved. Master Plumbers Avoid Strike.

Most of the organized building trades will be on strike this morning. Master plumbers last night agreed to sign the advanced wage scale of the journeymen this morning. They were in session at the Builders' exchange till after midnight. This will keep 650 craftsmen at work. The advanced wage is 50 cents the hour. It was 45 and in instances better. The new agreement provides for a rate of $3 50 for the first year of men coming out of apprenticeships.

A special meeting of Pittsburgh Local No. 5, Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, formally declared their strike last night.

Wiremen's Local No. 14 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers also formally declared their strike at a meeting at No. 404 Smithfield street.

Seven of the local organizations of the carpenters met last night and indorsed the action of the Pittsburgh district council of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners in declaring a strike on work where it is not agreed to pay $3 50 for the eight-hour day this morning. Employers of five-eighths of the men were reported to have agreed to the scale, but at the start of the carpenters' strike there will probably be about two-thirds of the men idle. The Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Homestead locals are among those which met last night and voted to strike.

Much Work Held Up.

Numbers of the leading architects of the city have stopped the receipt of estimates on new work and on some important contracts already placed they have notified the contractors of indefinite delay in letting contracts. One of the architects yesterday showed specifications on work aggregating $10,000,000 which is being held up by the labor trouble.

The strike lists for this morning of journeymen includes the following: Carpenters, structural workers, wiremen, tile setters and helpers, slate and tile roofers, sheet metal workers, including tinners and metal cornice workers, and bricklayers. All of these have their strike orders out.

The building trade agreements settled or running over May day are for the painters, paperhangers, decorators, plasterers, ornamental iron workers, stone contractors, marble setters and cutters, steam fitters, stone cutters and stone masons.

Contractors Are Firm.

If the trouble lasts all these workers may be involved in it, at least such as are members of the Building Trades Council or other central organizations, which will strike against employment of non-union men.

Sheet metal contractors, bricklayers, contractors, master builders and the planing mill operators all met within the week and agreed to stand together against the wage advances.

The structural iron workers are striking for 50 cents an hour, an eight-hour day and jurisdiction for a radius of 75 miles from Pittsburgh. Their last compromise offer from the American Bridge Company was for 47½ cents an hour for territory as specified. The present agreement expiring yesterday was for 40 cents an hour and a nine-hour day. George Boyd, business agent of the men here, last night announced the following work, which, he says, is to be tied up by the strike this morning:

Where Work Is to Stop.

Ft. Wayne bridge, Etna creek and viaduct, Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad bridge at Port Perry, Margaretta school house, three buildings for the Sharon Steel Company, Sharon Malleable iron works, mills at Elwood City, National Glass Company works at Rochester, Economy works of American Bridge Company, Union Steel Company works at Donora, Pittsburgh Steel Company extensions at Monessen, Wagon Works Company's addition at Washington, Canonsburg bridge of the Panhandle road; Scottdale steel works, Brookville glass works, American Sheet Steel Company works at Vandergrift, Rosenbaum viaduct work at Osgood, coal tipple at Latrobe, all Baker contracts, Shenango Bridge Company; Panhandle trestle work in the West End, Seventeenth street incline, extensions to the Fischer Foundry and Machine Company, South side fill work of the Pittsburgh Construction Company, Conemaugh to the Cambria works and the new Leisburg works of the Miller-Conley Manufacturing Company; Columbia Bridge Company plant at Carnegie, work on the Port of Brighton Company, South Twenty-second street and at Kendall station, work of the Pittsburgh Steel and Construction Company, in Sharpsburg, Avenue H, Homestead and Forty-first street, Pittsburgh; the Pioneering building and additional story of Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, under contract with William Miller & Sons; Deshane & Lewis contract at Carnegie, Farmers Deposit National Bank building, George A. Fuller & Co., contractors; Marshall McClintic Construction Company, contracts at Clairton for the St. Clair Furnace Company, American Bridge Company contract for the Union Steel Company at Donora; Wright Construction Company contract for the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railway Company at Rock No. 4; Fort Pitt Bridge Company's bridge work at Franklin; McClintic-Marshall Company's steel works contract at Steubenville, O.; Columbia Bridge Company contract for coal tipple at Jenners, Somerset county, Pa.; McClintic-Marshall Company contract for the big Westinghouse foundries near Stewart station; McClintic-Marshall and the new works of the Standard Steel Car Company at Butler.

Some Agreed to Scale.

The following concerns agreed to the bridgeworkers' scale yesterday: Kelly & Atcheson Company of Chicago, who are erecting the new Panhandle freight station in New Grant street and part of the South Side work for this road; the John Trunzer Company, which is erecting the Iron City brewery extension work, and William Fitzsimmons, who has important work at Washington, Pa. There were no further compromise offers from the American Bridge Company to the workers, as had been anticipated in previous reports.

Tom Edmonds, business agent for the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters, announced yesterday that his organization will in no way aid to defeat the strike of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, as reported.

While the night was passing to bring on the building trades strike, members of the Building Trades Council and their friends were dancing in the day at Turner hall, in Canal street, Allegheny. The large hall was crowded with a light-hearted throng.

GOVERNMENT TO USE FESSENDEN SYSTEM

Roanoke Island and Cape Hatteras to Be Connected by Wireless Telegraph.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NORFOLK, VA., April 30.—Prof. R. A. Fessenden, the inventor and developer of a system of wireless telegraphy, has arranged to transmit all government business by wireless telegraphy from Roanoke island to Cape Hatteras, and thence by direct government wire to Norfolk and Washington.

This was announced today, and is considered the best evidence of the success of the system.

THREE SUSPECTS ARE NOW IN JAIL

Kellar and Glancey were crossing the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny tracks on their way to the white bridge when they saw a man trying to dodge them. The man saw only Kellar and tried to get past him; but succeeded in walking right into Glancey's gun and was put under arrest. He showed fight at first, but was taken aboard a car and landed in the lockup. He gave his name of Joseph Sullivan, said his home was wherever he hung up his hat, and his age 28. Sullivan was wet to his armpits, and is believed to have waded Chartiers creek to avoid observation by going across the bridge.

John Enz, a Crafton shoemaker who works late, got out on his porch just for a breath of air before he retired for the night, was badly frightened to see a man step out of the shadow of a pole across the street and come toward him, gun in hand. Enz was accompanied by his dog and waited for the stranger to say: "Now you go on in there and stay or I will kill both you and the dog." Then Enz went in, taking his dog with him, and there he stayed.

During the fight in the street, outside the store, one of the thieves dropped his revolver. It was recovered by Policeman Westcott and will be preserved.

All Three Identified.

Policeman Westcott was positive in his identification of the three men. He said they were not the two who injured Officer Peak and himself and escaped. He is certain, however, that he will be able to identify both of these if they are captured. Many burglars' tools, with some more checks and papers, were afterward found in the Roman Catholic cemetery, through which two of the thieves, probably the two escaped, ran.

The three men caught did not have anything about them to attract suspicion, except Sullivan, who had a 38-calibre revolver. During the preliminary hearing before Justice Engle, Officer Glancey saw the man known as Sullivan wink at Black when he thought the policeman was not looking.

Mr. Daub thinks two of the men were in the store in the afternoon, looking about as though they intended to make some purchases, but buying nothing.

Suspects Sullivan.

County Detective Robinson, as soon as he was informed of the capture of the suspects, commenced to work on the case. He said yesterday afternoon that he had no doubt that Joseph Sullivan was the right man, as he was suspected of having been connected with several other robberies and burglaries hereabouts.

Lawson and Black Robinson said, had probably given their real names and were, as they claimed to be, glassworkers from Lapelle, Ind. They had union cards in their pockets to that effect. They said that they had only arrived that morning from Youngstown a few minutes before they were arrested, and that a bootblack, who rode on the train with them, could bear them out in their statement.

DENTAL STUDENTS WERE GRADUATED

THE CLASS THIS YEAR NUMBERED FIFTY-TWO MEMBERS.

Sixth Annual Commencement of Pittsburgh Dental College at Carnegie Music Hall Was Largely Attended—Music Was a Feature of the Occasion.

The sixth annual commencement of the Pittsburgh Dental college was held in Carnegie Music hall last night and was largely attended. Fifty-two members were in the graduating class, the largest in the history of the college.

The class and faculty in mitre caps and gowns occupied the stage. A feature of the event was a musical program by an orchestra composed of students. Their numbers were frequently encored.

Dr. G. L. Simpson, dean of the college, acted as master of ceremonies. Prayer, by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry, was followed by the faculty address delivered by Dr. Stewart L. McCurdy, who spoke of the origin of the college; its trials and its triumph when it was made a department of the Western university.

The speaker of the evening was Prof. W. O. Thompson, president of the Ohio State university, who spoke on "Professional Ideals," which he claimed was the secret of success. He urged the class not to be content with excellent results, but to ever strive for something higher.

The professional man as a citizen was also a theme of his address. He dwelt on the part the educated professional man could play in municipal affairs, urging in this respect an organization of all professions into one brotherhood for the advancement of the best interests of the community.

Diplomas were presented to the following:

A. J. Ariman, M. W. Blackburn, J. C. Boner, L. W. Broomfield, F. C. Buterbaugh, M. E. Churchill, W. B. Conway, S. M. Crawford, T. A. Deeds, S. H. Douthett, C. H. Ellis, F. A. Finalay, S. Thompson, J. W. Walker, W. P. Wiegering, Frank H. Wilson, D. H. Warren, J. E. Wells, J. Burt Kirk.

Chancellor Brashear conferred the degrees. He told the new dentists to make it a rule to never do anything in an indifferent manner.

NO STRIKE OF ICEMEN.

Employers Agreed Late Yesterday to Meet Wage Demands of Drivers and Helpers.

The managers of the ice-producing companies yesterday anticipated the strike ordered for this morning by agreeing to pay the wage demand of the drivers and their helpers. The advance is about 25 per cent on the old wages of some of the men. It will affect about 600 men.

The following ice-producing companies were represented at the meeting at the Consolidated Ice Company yesterday which agreed to the wage propositions of the drivers: Consolidated, Pittsburgh, Liberty, Allegheny, Consumers, H. P. Cypress and Penn Ice Companies.

They promptly notified their men before the quitting hour last night that they had granted the advanced wages. Prior to this some of the companies, notably the Consolidated, had made wage concessions to the men.

MANUFACTURERS HAD TO FURNISH LOCOMOTIVES

used up stock piles of coke aggregating 350,000 tons and limestone to the amount of 150,000 tons. This sum should be added to the 1,375,000 tons shortage shown in the figures quoted yesterday, making a grand total well up to 2,000,000 tons for the iron and steel business alone.

Port Perry Tunnel Breakdown.

It will require considerable extra movement to enable the furnace men to stock up again, even after the railroads have caught up with the demands of regular traffic. This they have not done up to the present time, though the spring months, when there is no grain movement and when some other lines are inactive, are most favorable to caring for the industrial needs of the Pittsburgh district.

Among the minor breakdowns that have added to the general inconvenience, none have been more irritating than the caving in of the Port Perry tunnel. The south end of the hole fell in more than three weeks ago, necessitating the passage of the eastbound freights through the Pittsburgh yards. Even tonnage originating in the Monongahela valley and destined for the Turtle Creek valley, or vice versa, instead of going across at the mouth of Turtle creek, has been forced into the Pittsburgh jam for a double haul. The Union railroad, in neighborly spirit, has opened its line to some of this traffic, but its own necessities have prevented it from caring for all of it. A reopening of the tunnel should afford some relief.

Suffered from Too Much Movement.

The complaint of lack of movement of cars is so general that it is a relief to find a man who has suffered from too much movement. But one has been found in Allegheny. He is a florist. He had a big order of plants shipped from Europe and needed additional greenhouse room. He gave a contract for woodwork to a concern out the Pennsylvania road. The lumber was shipped to Carolina for a car of cedar, which was shipped next day with telegraphic advice to expect it in a week or ten days. It did not arrive. Tracers were sent out. When the car was long overdue it was found at Altoona, where it had been, at the entrance to the Pittsburgh district, for nearly three weeks.

It was sent forward next day, but did not arrive. Diligent search located it at Brownsville and it required another week or more to get it back. It was finally unloaded, the lumber worked up and shipped to the Allegheny man.

Hurry Order Cost an Extra $7,000.

Two weeks later he received it. His hurry order cost him, he says, an extra $1,000, and the delays cost him his European shipment, which got through ahead of the lumber.

Another instance illustrating how much more trouble there has been in the Pittsburgh district than elsewhere was the shipment of a piece of machinery from Syracuse, N. Y., last month. It got to Oil City in three days and was 15 days longer in reaching its destination, a few miles north of Pittsburgh. Thus it appears the small shipper has enjoyed no advantage over the larger shippers in this congested territory.

YOUR BLOOD IN MAY MUST PRODUCE TRUE VITALITY OR DISEASE.

Paine's Celery Compound

Expels All Winter Impurities and Poisons from the Blood and Builds Up the Entire System.

AN ASTONISHING PROOF OF BLOOD CLEANSING AND RESTORATION TO COMPLETE HEALTH.

True health cannot be maintained by keeping the body free of acid and sluggish blood and morbid waste matters. The blood that is pumped through the heart to all parts of the body carries nourishment and health or poison and the seeds of death.

Close confinement in badly ventilated offices, stores and workshops during the winter months has lowered the vitality of tens of thousands. Poisons and impurities have been implanted in the blood; these agents of death must be expelled if health would be maintained during the coming summer.

The month of May should be renovating and building-up time with the vast army of weak, debilitated and broken down men, women and young people.

If the work of purifying and vitalizing the blood be longer deferred eruptions, blotches, sores, eczema, scrofula, erysipelas and other dangers are sure to be your portion.

Paine's Celery Compound meets successfully at this season all unhealthy conditions of the blood. It is the only medicine that can guarantee perfect purification of the vital fluid; that can give true nutriment to the nerves and tissues; that can bestow new life, vigor and strength for the enjoyment of summer and the prosecution of life's duties.

Mr. George Schmidt, 20 West Third St., Cincinnati, Ohio, briefly and forcibly writes regarding his rescue from a slow but sure death. He says:—

"Since infancy I have been bothered with impure blood and nervousness. I tried almost all known remedies and went to many physicians, but nothing seemed to do me any good until a druggist recommended Paine's Celery Compound. I used this great medicine, and before I had finished two bottles I found relief. I am now using my sixth bottle and never felt better in my life. My nervousness is all gone and my skin clearer than ever it was."

WILL RISK LOSS OF VALUABLE FARMS TO ESTABLISH HIS RIGHTS.

"I propose to test the constitutionality of the Brooks law, if necessary, in the highest court in the United States to find out what rights an American citizen has in the state of Pennsylvania," said Theodore Weiss of No. 97 Frankstown avenue, who was refused a license at the present session of the license court. Yesterday a petition was filed by Attorney L. C. Barton for Weiss in common pleas court No. 2 for a mandamus upon County Treasurer McClure to show cause why the latter should not grant him a liquor license under the act of 1872. This action is the beginning of the test Weiss proposes to make. The court immediately refused the petition.

In his petition Weiss speaks of his citizenship, his good character and his tendering $300 to the county treasurer, which was refused. It is alleged that the treasurer in refusing the money disregarded his duty prescribed by law.

Mr. Weiss is one of the oldest and best known citizens in the East End. He came to America from Bavaria in October, 1863, settling in Allegheny, where he secured employment as a butcher with Adam Eckert. In 1874 he secured a saloon license in the East End and opened the first saloon on Larimer avenue. Later he engaged in the flour business in Decatur street, Pittsburgh, but, the panic coming on, he lost $35,000 in the venture. He again returned to the East End and started in the saloon business, which he has conducted until knocked out by the present license court.

"I have made two fortunes in my life, he said yesterday. "One I lost through a business depression and the other I am willing to lose to test my rights as an American citizen. I have a farm of 1,700 acres in Kentucky, another in Iowa and one in Westmoreland county, besides much property in the East. Liberty valley, and I am willing to sacrifice them to test the constitutionality of the Brooks law.

"When I left my home in Bavaria my mother gave me two Prussian silver thalers. That was my fortune, and since I arrived in America they have grown a hundred-thousand fold. I have them yet, and expect to leave them to my children, but if necessary, I will even spend them to test my rights as a citizen.

Marriage Ceremony Stopped---Amalgamated Defense Fund Increased

WEDDING CEREMONY STOPPED BY THE BRIDE-ELECT

GIRL CHANGED HER MIND

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., April 30.—Just as the wedding ceremony which would make Nellie Nichols of Hickory, this county, and Richard E. Zeidler of Cincinnati, man and wife, was about to be performed at the Steele hotel yesterday afternoon the prospective bride announced to her betrothed, the clergyman and the attendants that she had changed her mind and refused to allow the ceremony to proceed in spite of the protests of Zeidler and friends.

She refused to state her reasons for stopping the marriage, but stated that she preferred to go home to her mother, and informed Zeidler and the attending clergyman, the Rev. E. A. Cole of the First Christian church of this place, that they might go, as she would have no further use for them.

It was only through difficulties of an unusual character that Zeidler had won his prospective bride and he was very angered with the actions of the girl. The courtship of Zeidler and Miss Nichols is a romantic one and dates back five years, when they first met in a little hamlet in Ohio. They were neighbors and a strong attachment grew between them.

Several months ago the Nichols family removed to Hickory, where the girl's father was engaged as a contractor in the construction of the Wabash railroad. The girl's parents objected to Zeidler's suit and refused to allow her to communicate with him. Zeidler was not aware of the whereabouts of his fiancee until a few weeks ago when he discovered her at Hickory and succeeded in gaining the permission of Miss Nichols' parents to wed the girl.

Friends and relatives of the girl were present to witness the ceremony and were greatly disappointed at the outcome. Zeidler returned to his home at Cincinnati today declaring that he was heartbroken.

Crow Withdraws from Race.

UNIONTOWN, PA., April 30.—William E. Crow makes public announcement today in the local papers of his withdrawal from the contest for the Republican nomination for congress in this county. This leaves the field clear for Robert F. Hopwood and Allen F. Cooper, both lawyers of this town.

HARRISBURG, PA., April 30.—State charters were issued today as follows: Douglass Loan and Investment Company, Pittsburgh, capital $1,000; Beaver Valley Water Power Company, Eastville, Beaver county, capital $1,000.

PROHIBITIONISTS NAME STATE TICKET

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ZANESVILLE, O., April 30.—The ticket nominated this afternoon by the Prohibition state convention is as follows: Secretary of state, A. L. White of Muskingum; member board of public works, Samuel W. Dunlap of Pickaway; judge of supreme court, Albert L. Talcott of Cuyahoga; dairy and food commissioner, George W. Ware of Darke.

The sum of $1,100 was raised for campaign expenses in an effort lasting only 15 minutes. The committee on resolutions reported, demanding "the immediate and utter destruction of the saloon," and the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

Oliver J. Roos, an attorney of Columbus, caused a storm of opposition by moving that all reference to God be stricken from the platform, and his motion was buried by a storm of noes.

BEAVER COMMITTEE SUMMONED BY COURT

Must Show Cause Why Acheson's Name Should Not Be on Ballot.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER, PA., April 30.—At the request of friends of Congressman Ernest F. Acheson, Judge William D. Wallace of New Castle came here this afternoon to issue a rule under mandamus proceedings to compel the officers of the Republican county committee to place Acheson's name on the ticket as a candidate for congress.

Judge Wallace refused to sign, as he learned Judge J. Sharp Wilson was expected home tonight. Judge Wilson arrived and filed papers summoning the county committee to appear before him on Friday at 2 o'clock to show cause why Acheson's name should not be placed on the ticket.

Dr. Louthan, chairman of the county committee, has gone on a trip to Europe and hence the papers were served upon the secretaries and treasurer of the committee.

WOMAN MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT.

Conflicting Stories Told of a Serious Wounding Near Uniontown.

UNIONTOWN, PA., April 30.—(Special.)—The shooting of Mrs. Mary Martin, wife of a Philippine soldier, at Leith last night is surrounded with mystery. This morning the woman stated that while she was taking a revolver from a shelf she slipped and accidentally shot herself. Last night when officers reached the house, it is alleged, she said "China" Hunt was to blame for the shooting.

The police arrested Hunt, William Blaine and William Younger, her boarders, but they were released. Since then it has been learned that a violent fight occurred. The woman is dangerously wounded.

AMALGAMATED FUND FOR DEFENSE IS INCREASED

TIGHE HAS OPPOSITION

Two Other Candidates in Contest for Assistant Secretary.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, W. VA., April 30.—The convention of the Amalgamated association spent all morning on the report of the committee on constitution and general laws. Many important changes were suggested and discussed at great length. One of the most important matters considered was the proposition to change the system of dues. The dues now are 60 cents a month, and a resolution was offered to change to a system by which members would pay in proportion to their wages. The proposition was voted down by a decisive vote.

Considerable discussion was had over the proposed increase in the defense fund. It is now $25,000, and the proposition was to increase it to $100,000. The most prominent members of the association favored the change, arguing that the last strike was lost because the association did not have sufficient funds to carry on the battle. The resolution carried and steps will be taken at once to put the association in a position to carry on a strike for a year should one ever occur again.

Columbus now leads in the race for the 1903 convention. Indications are that it will defeat St. Louis badly.

The principal discussion tomorrow will come out of the report of the good of the order committee regarding proposed removal of headquarters from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, Youngstown, Columbus or New Castle. On account of the way the opposition to Pittsburgh is split there is little doubt that the headquarters will remain where they are.

The hottest contest will be over M. F. Tighe's position of assistant secretary. Harry Griffiths of Ellwood City, Pa., and John Jones of McKees Rocks, Pa., are avowed candidates. They are taking advantage of some feeling that has been stirred up against Mr. Tighe by the use of his name in connection with the presidency. It is probable that no candidates will be nominated against President Shaffer.

Beaver Valley Miners' Scale.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., April 30.—(Special.)—A meeting of mine owners of this vicinity and the members of the local lodge of United Mine Workers of America was held here this afternoon. A scale of 3 cents per bushel for mining, the operators to pay for all dead work, was adopted for the Beaver valley district. The following mine owners signed the new scale: Edward Wayne, Martin Coltman, William Clayton, Walter Rays and Henry Jones.

Alleged Crooks Arrested.

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 30.—(Special.)—Pittsburgh detectives came here today, and, after sizing up the crowd at Main's circus, arrested some alleged crooks. Among them were "Skinney" Ellsworth and wife, both of Pittsburgh, and William Maddox, who, it is charged, picked the pocket of William Boales of Eldersville, Pa. Henry Zurcher, an alleged horse thief from Wheeling, was apprehended here.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., April 30.—(Special.)—Eben Miller was brought to this city from Rogersville this evening and lodged in the county jail under a charge of murder. Miller fled, but was soon captured.

AMERICANS LANGUISH IN ITALIAN PRISON

BOER LEADERS BUSY COUNSELING PEACE

Clemency for the Cruiser Chicago's Officers Has Been Denied.

SECRETARY LONG ADVISED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, April 30.—The officers of the United States cruiser Chicago, who were arrested at Venice, remain in prison there. An application for their discharge has been rejected. The Italian law does not allow the court to grant pardon in cases of assaults on the police.

Some of the newspapers mention the lynchings of Italians in the United States as sufficient reason for a refusal of royal clemency. It is considered probable, however, that the prisoners will be released by order of the king on June 1, the date of the fete of the constitution.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Secretary Long has received the following cablegram from Capt. Dayton of the Chicago, dated Venice, yesterday, in answer to the department's inquiry:

"Doddridge, Wynne, Ledbetter, Kress and one marine on leave arrested. Principal charge, resisting police. Serious under Italian law. Sentences, Wynne, four months, 10 days. Remainder, three months each. Have not yet their full statement or a report from court, but applied for. Resisting arrest largely due to pressing in of crowd and not understanding language. Appeal made to Rome. Impossible to explain all circumstances fully by cable. Will make full report."

The state department has begun the exercise of its good offices in the interests of the officers of the Chicago. Capt. Dayton's explanatory cablegram, showing that the resistance to the police by the officers was clearly the result of a misunderstanding and was not a deliberate offense, has done much to strengthen the interest of the officials here in their case.

Secretary Hay has communicated by cable with Mr. Meyer, the United States ambassador, on this subject, and good results are hoped for. It is realized that the case is one requiring very delicate handling to avoid wounding Italian pride, but the belief prevails that the Italian government will respond in a magnanimous spirit to an open appeal for clemency for the young officers.

WHEELING, W. VA., April 30.—John S. Doddridge, one of the United States naval officers imprisoned in Venice for alleged disorder and destruction of property, is a native of this city and his mother still lives here. She has received no official notice of his misfortune.

Lieut. Doddridge was considered an exemplary young man here. Upon the occasion of Admiral Dewey's visit to Wheeling in February, 1900, he presented Lieut. Doddridge with a magnificent sword, a gift from the people of the city, in recognition of the young officer's services in the Spanish-American war.

THREE CASTELLANES ELECTED.

Boni and His Brothers Break the Record in French Chamber.

PARIS, April 30.—Considerable interest, socially and politically, has been aroused by the elections to the chamber of deputies of Counts Boni, Jean and Stanislas de Castellane, as the first time when three brothers have simultaneously been returned. There have been several cases where two brothers have been elected to the chamber of deputies, and of this the case of the Brothers Robespierre is the earliest instance.

A ministerialist organ, commenting on the elections of the three de Castellanes, remarks: "We are overflowing with Castellanes. Besides Mr. Gould's son-in-law we have two other Castellanes who are deputies. As Napoleon carved kingdoms for his brothers, Count Boni is berthing his family in politics. This is a piquant fact."

VICTIM OF BEEF TRUST.

The Juggernaut wheels of the meat trust have crushed another poor victim. Patrick Kelly, who for 30 years has conducted a meat shop in Carnegie, has been forced out of business, because his patrons were unable to pay the high prices the trust has put upon meats.

Kelly is now 70 years of age and has long been known as one of the most upright and respected citizens of Carnegie. His trade was chiefly with the laboring classes. When prices began to soar Kelly was hopeful, and for some weeks operated his store at a loss, both of time and money, for his customers were unable to pay the prices the trust demanded, and bought meat only when it was absolutely necessary. Kelly was shaving his profits to a mere nothing, but still was doing no business. Finally, on Monday, he gave up, saying he was unable longer to bear the financial strain.

REBEL ORDERED SPEARS POISONED

Lieut. Shields Testifies of Filipino's Uncivilized Warfare.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANILA, April 30.—Lieut. George H. Shields, Jr., aid de camp of Gen. Jacob H. Smith, testified at today's session of the court-martial which is trying the general. The lieutenant said he knew well the signature of Lucban, the insurgent leader, who was captured February 22 by Lieut. Strebler's Philippine scouts in the island of Samar. The order issued to poison the natives' spears was undoubtedly signed by Lucban.

The witness also said Lucban confessed to him that he was the author of the proclamation setting forth that German warships were bombarding Vigan and that the Filipino navy was blockading Manila, which was issued to encourage the Filipinos.

The defense then rested its case and the court adjourned until Saturday.

FINDS PREVENTIVE FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Prof. Behring Claims to Have Successfully Vaccinated Cattle Against Consumption.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, April 30.—Advance sheets of Prof. Behring's book on tuberculosis in cattle are available today. In his book the professor details the results of six years' investigations at Marburg, where he was assisted by Drs. Ruppel and Roemer.

Prof. Behring says he has discovered a method to render cattle immune against tuberculosis by vaccinating the cattle when young. This he declares to be his greatest discovery, and says the method is in use on farms at Marburg.

Prof. Behring affirms that tuberculosis in man and cattle is propagated by identical bacilli, and that the seeming differences between the human and the cattle bacilli result from the capacity of the bacilli to accommodate themselves to the organism in which they live.

Prof. Behring says he has successfully infected cattle with virus from humans, producing thereby fatal animal tuberculosis.

LATEST REPORTS FROM THREE REVOLUTIONS

Plague Spot in Colombia Captured by Insurgents—American Steamer Detained at Puerto Plato.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PANAMA, COLOMBIA, April 30.—Reports of the capture of Rio Hacha by the revolutionary troops have been confirmed, but little importance is attached to the capture by government officials, as 3,000 soldiers have died there this year from yellow fever and smallpox. Gen. Salazar, the governor of Panama, says that Rio Hacha has been practically evacuated by government troops on account of its unhealthy condition.

CAPE HAITIEN, HAITI, April 30.—The governor of Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, prevented the departure from that port for Samana of the Clyde line American steamer Cherokee. Her commander protested. She will leave later for Santo Domingo direct. The Cherokee is an American vessel.

A battle was fought yesterday at Sosua. The agent there of the United Fruit Company, an American concern, was obliged to leave his house, and, with his family, take refuge on rocks along the coast. The governor has sent reinforcements to Sosua.

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, April 30.—Gen. Gonzales, president of the district of Cumana, was made a prisoner during the fighting of April 23, near San Antonio, when the government troops sustained a bad defeat and Gen. Castillo was mortally wounded. The revolutionists are marching on the city of Cumana.

DOMINICANS IN REVOLT.

Revolutionists Threaten Overthrow of Two Cities of West Indies Island.

CAPE HAYTIEN, HAYTI, April 30.—The Dominican revolutionists are at present in the vicinity of Cotuy and Santo Domingo, which cities, it is reported here, they contemplate attacking tomorrow.

All the Cibao region, except Puerto Plata on the north coast, is in the hands of the revolutionists. Another uprising has broken out in the south of the Dominican republic. The position of the Dominican government appears to be very critical.

Telegraphic communication by land has been cut by the revolutionists, and news is difficult to obtain.

Princess Sentenced to Prison.

Civil and Military Officials Confer With Burghers in the Field.

COULD GET MUCH MONEY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PRETORIA, April 30.—In pursuance of an understanding reached by the Boer delegates at the conference recently held here, the delegates are busy visiting the burghers in the field. Gen. Botha, the Transvaal commander-in-chief; Acting President Schalkburger of the Transvaal, Gen. Delarey, Gen. Lucas Meyer, commander-in-chief of the Orange Free State forces; Secretary of State Reitz of the Transvaal, Mr. Steyn, ex-president of the Orange Free State, and Gen. DeWet have each taken a separate district for the purpose of conferring with the commandoes as rapidly as possible. After these conferences a general meeting has been arranged for at Vereeniging, Transvaal, May 25, when a final decision is expected.

It is believed among Boers who have surrendered and other well-informed persons that the peace outlook is favorable if the delegates place the situation fairly before the burghers.

NEW YORK, April 30.—W. Bourke Cockran, who has just returned from a trip to Rome, Egypt and London, said that, in his opinion, if the Boers will make a general concession of defeat the English will pay them almost any sum to restore their destroyed homes and repair the ravages of the war. In other words, he said, England is ready and anxious to pay a large sum of money to bring about peace in South Africa.

THE SHIPPING COMBINE SEEMS TO BE ASSURED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, April 30.—Owing to the necessity of consulting the shareholders of the various steamship lines concerned, a definite conclusion of the shipping negotiations is not expected for a fortnight. J. Pierpont Morgan will probably not return to London and J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., has been intrusted with all the negotiations.

All the steamship lines concerned, with the exception of those controlled by the White Star line, have already arranged with their stockholders to enter the combine.

The Morgans, who had until today the option of confirming or withdrawing from the provisional agreement by which the White Star line was to enter the Atlantic shipping combine, have notified that line of their intention to carry through their part of the agreement.

W. J. Pierrie, chairman of Harland & Wolff, ship builders, tonight ventured the opinion that the arrangements for the shipping combine were not likely to fall through.

The Associated Press understands that J. Pierpont Morgan gets £2,500,000 in stock of the shipping combine in return for his services in organizing and financing it.

CHARTER FOR OLD CONCERN.

Business of the Severance Company to Be Incorporated at McKeesport.

The S. Severance Manufacturing Company has been formed in McKeesport with a capital of $50,000. A Pennsylvania charter has been applied for. The new company will take over the old S. Severance plant at Glassport. George I. Whitney, S. Severance, Jr., and Frank W. Severance are the leaders in the enterprise. The old Severance enterprise was organized by Levi Severance in 1828, the first plant being built near the Point, in this city.

Levi Severance before that time worked for John Shoenberger. While still quite young he invented an automatic machine for the manufacture of rivets. It was one of the first labor-saving machines invented. He then set up in business for himself. The plant passed down to his son, S. Severance, in 1874. It remained in Pittsburgh until 1899, when it was removed to Glassport.

FALSE ALARM OF FIRE CAUSES DEADLY PANIC

Eight Were Killed and Three Fatally Hurt in Philadelphia Cigar Factory.

EXIT IN A DEATH TRAP

Twelve Hundred Frenzied Girls in Narrow Stairway Trample Each Other to Death—Mishap to Boy and Cry of Fire Started the Rush.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, April 30.—An unfortunate accident to a deaf and dumb boy, Isador Baccus, was today directly responsible for the death of eight young women, the fatal injury of three others, and the serious injury of more than two-score of girls employed in the cigar factory of Harburger, Homan & Co., a branch of the American Tobacco Company, located at Tenth street and Washington avenue.

THE DEAD ARE:

MARY GENEVA, age 15 years.
HELEN GALINT, aged 12.
ELIZABETH TARTANE, age 12.
ANNIE ROSSCHNEIDER, age 18.
LOUISA DE SEPI, age 16.
IDA GREEN, age 18.
ANNIE FORD, age 13.
JOHANNA GILDZ, age 22.

FATALLY INJURED.

MARY MESINO, injured internally; skull fractured.
JOSEPHINE O'RONCO, injured internally.
UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN, fractured skull, unconscious.

The injuries of the others consist mainly of bruises about the body and fractured limbs.

The building in which the disaster occurred is a five-story brick structure and reaches an entire block. Twelve hundred persons are at work at the time of the accident, 90 per cent of whom were girls whose ages ranged from 12 to 25 years.

The panic began on the fourth floor. Baccus, who was janitor of the building, started on the fifth floor for a ball of twine. The elevators were at the top of the shaft, and Baccus pulled the rope to bring it down. He opened the door leading to the shaft and leaned forward to see where the elevator was. As he did so the elevator, which was descending slowly, struck him across the back of the neck, the ground between the elevator and the floor.

The boy released Baccus and cried fire. The foreman rushed from the office and an ambulance and immediately was a panic among the employes of the younger girls. Fainting, not being able to control themselves, cried fire.

There was a mad rush for the stairway into Tenth street. The crowd down the narrow staircase reached a bend in the exit between second and third floors. In an effort to escape the frightened girls immediately following the struggling mass of humanity less than a minute there were scores of children and young women in the passageway. The screams of the terror-stricken people could be heard for a block or more. The excitement at an alarm of fire was great, but before the engines arrived on the scene several of the occupants of the building had rushed to the street, and, according to Police Officer, Helen Tolind, one of the girls was almost instantly killed.

Police and policemen arrived and an effort was made to quiet the crowd. The firemen rushed up the stairways and begged the girls to be quiet, but their cries were drowned by the sight of the dead and injured girls. The firemen seemed only to make matters worse. While the policemen and firemen were endeavoring to quiet the girls on the stairway ladders were being run up on the outside of the building and the employes who had climbed out on the fire escapes and window ledges were quickly taken to the street.

After a few minutes the men were enabled to check the awful crush on the stairway and then began the work of rescuing those who had been trampled and crushed between the second and third floors. A call for ambulances had been turned in and as quickly as the dead and injured were carried from the building they were hurried to hospitals. The number of ambulances were entirely inadequate and patrol wagons were brought into use to carry the victims away for treatment.

While this was being done the scene about the structure was heartrending. The building is located in a section largely inhabited by Hebrews, many of whom were caught in the terrible crush. Parents and relatives of the unfortunate girls were screaming and rushing about the streets like mad and it was almost impossible for the police to restrain the mothers and relatives of supposed victims from entering the building.

The work of rescuing the girls from the windows was necessarily tedious. They were so excited that they did not seem to understand the pleadings of the firemen. At nearly every window of the huge structure were girls screaming and crying for help. Many were so excited that it was with the greatest difficulty that they were prevented from jumping from the building, notwithstanding that there was not a sign of fire and their rescue seemed only the work of a few minutes.

The panic was over in less than half an hour, but in this brief space thousands of persons had been attracted to the scene by the wild screams of the relatives of the victims and the shrieks of the girls at the windows.

Because of the great excitement it was almost impossible to get an intelligent idea of the disaster and it was three hours after the accident before a single victim was identified.

A PARTIAL ADJUSTMENT.

Alderman Conner Makes a Start Toward Settling Rival Church Trouble.

Alderman Connor held hearings yesterday in the case of Victor and Alexander Silverman, Charles Miller, G. Angorshep and Mrs. M. Komentzky, charged with assault and battery and disorderly conduct by Adrian Alsomovitch. The trouble grew out of the quarrel between members of the Hebrew congregations of Synagogue Beth Jacob and Chaverim Brial Israel, at Franklin and Townsend streets, last Sunday afternoon.

The alderman concluded that Mrs. Komentzky had waited for the coming of Rabbi Ashinsky's congregation, and that when they appeared she began a vigorous assault upon them. He fined her $10, and she paid the fine. Victor Silverman was also considered to be a chief offender, and was held for court in $300 bail. Alexander Silverman and G. Angershep were discharged, and the case of Charles Miller was continued until Friday.

He says Mr. Butler used vile and abusive language toward him, and struck him a heavy blow with a water bottle.

Old Wells Bring Good Price.

In the old third and fourth sand territory, near Karns City, Butler county, production brings a good price as indicated by the recent sale of some old wells. Gregory & Crawford, of the Emelton Gas Company, have purchased from E. E. Abrams three old wells and from J. M. Day two wells, all connected to one fine 10-inch pipe line, on the Abrams farm. The five wells have a production of 12 barrels a day and the price paid was between $1,000 and $1,200 a barrel, or something less than $14,400 for the five wells. The staying qualities of the old third and fourth sand territory in this district are strikingly illustrated by two of the wells, which will be 30 years old next January. These veterans were famous producers in their early days and each is now averaging about two barrels a day.

Oil Sold for $5 a Barrel.

Oil from these wells has sold for as high as $5 a barrel, and as low as 40 cents. The United Pipe Lines now the National Transit Company, added to these wells in 1875, and one to bears the number 77 and is still receiving oil. One of the wells on this farm, completed last year, has its tank numbered 45,875, showing the great number of tanks that have been erected in this one district in 30 years. There is now some conjecture as to whether or not the two old wells will reach the half century mark as steady producers. Not a few are inclined to the opinion that they will still be in the producing list at the expiration of another 20 years.

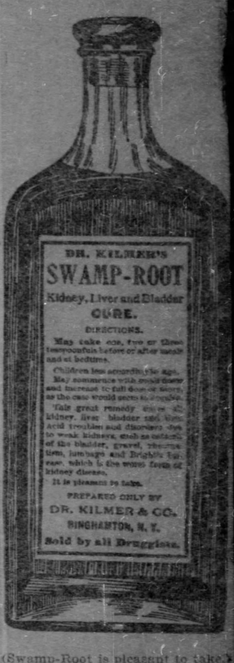
ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.



It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly" begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand 24 hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular 50-cent and $1 size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

(Swamp-Root is pleasant to take.)

EDITORIAL NOTE.—If you have the slightest symptoms of kidney or bladder troubles, or if there is a trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who will gladly send you by mail, immediately, without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. A CAKE OF MAY'S MEDICATED SKIN SOAP.

May's Medicated Skin Soap is a splendid soap—a sure cure for all skin diseases, softens the hands, purifies the complexion, eradicates pimples; has no equal as a bath soap for infants and adults.

BECAUSE its properties are refreshing and healing, qualities no other soap possesses; is antiseptic, keeps the skin healthy, prevents chapping, tan and rough hands, is unequaled for shampooing and most superior for shaving—sells at 10c a cake or three cakes for 25c, and is better than most soaps that sell at 25c the single cake. It is not a new soap and untried—it is used in thousands of homes, and continually where once given a trial. The soap is so good that we inaugurated this free distribution to better introduce it; there's no profit in giving soap away, but we believe you'll be willing to pay for the future cakes you'll want.

When May's Medicated Skin Soap was first thought of we realized that an ordinary soap would never be a success—too many ordinary soaps on the market already. So we strove for the BEST. We believe the months of practical chemists' time spent in scientific research have attained our end—a perfect soap.

MR. MOODY ENDS A LONG SERVICE AS A CONGRESSMAN

Will Take Up the Duties of Secretary of the Navy Today.

HIS FAITH IN CONGRESS

After Seven Years as Representative from Massachusetts, New Cabinet Official Believes That Devotion There Is Salvation of the Republic.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Representative Moody today spent the last day of his service as representative from the Sixth Massachusetts district, in the performance of his regular legislative duties. He attended the meetings of the appropriations committee, of which he is a member, in the morning, and was on the floor of the house during the greater portion of the day.

During his seven years' service in the house, he has won the sincere esteem and respect of members on both sides of the political aisle and there were many expressions of regret at his departure. During the day he was almost constantly surrounded by friends who came personally to voice the general regret at his departure and to express their good wishes for his success in the cabinet. Mr. Moody was not unmoved by the demonstration.

Memories Pleasant Ones.

"I cannot pretend to be without regrets in leaving the house," said he, as he was departing this afternoon. "It ends a service which has been agreeable and inspiring, and severs the relation with a considerate and generous constituency. But I take away many pleasant memories.

"After seven years service here I have a firm and abiding faith in congress. I believe that it is truly representative of the best there is in American life, and in a large degree is composed of men who are earnestly striving for the public welfare. Through the widely conflicting opinions there seems to me to run a current of devotion to the country. It is not confined to any sect or any section, and is the salvation of the republic."

Mr. Moody forwarded his resignation as representative from the Sixth district to the governor of Massachusetts today. It is dated May 1. He also sent a communication to the speaker of the house notifying him of his action.

Secretary Long's Last Day.

Secretary Long closed his official career as the head of the naval establishment today. Affairs progressed as usual and the event was unmarked save by the calling of many friends to take official leave of the retiring secretary. Noticeable among today's callers were Secretary Hay and Mr. Moody, Secretary Long's successor. It has been arranged that Secretary Moody shall assume the duties of secretary of the navy tomorrow morning.

Very few changes will follow the change of the head of the department. The only one which will take effect at once will be the installation of Fred L. Fishback as confidential clerk in place of Mr. Greer, who has been appointed an assistant paymaster in the navy. Mr. Fishback is clerk of the house committee on banking and currency, and is a personal friend of the new secretary. Cyrus W. Wells, private secretary to Secretary Long, will serve Secretary Moody in the same capacity for the present.

Dinner to Secretary Long.

Secretary Long was given a complimentary dinner at the New Willard hotel tonight by the chiefs of the bureaus of the department with whom he has been associated during his official career. Covers were laid for 15.

Admiral O'Neil presided. Others present were Admirals Dewey, Melville, Bradford, Kenny, Endicott, Bowles, Rixey and Taylor; Gen. Heywood, commandant of marines; Judge Advocate-General Lemly, Capt. Sigsbee, chairman Foss of the house naval committee and Assistant Secretary Darling.

Mr. Moody and Senator Hale, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs, had been invited. The former declined because of a recent family affliction and the latter was absent from the city. There were no set toasts.

WILLIAM H. MOODY OF MASSACHUSETTS.
He Becomes Secretary of the Navy Today, Succeeding John D. Long of the Bay State.

THE DAY IN THE HOUSE.

Agricultural Appropriation Bill Was Passed and Taxation in District of Columbia Discussed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—The house today passed the agricultural appropriation bill and began consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill, the last but two of the regular supply measures. By the terms of a special rule adopted before the District bill was taken up, it will be in order to attach a rider to it to make operative the existing personal tax law of the district, which has been a dead letter for 20 years.

Chairman Cannon estimated that there was $100,000,000 of untaxed personal property in Washington. The Goldfogle resolution calling on the secretary of state for information as to whether American citizens of Jewish faith were excluded from Russia was adopted.

The appropriation for good road inquiries was increased on motion of Mr. Tongue (Oregon) from $20,000 to $30,000. Without further material amendment the bill was passed.

DUE TO BAD SHOOTING.

Coroner's Jury Attributes Killing of Mrs. Fargo to Poor Marksmanship of Her Husband.

ST. LOUIS, April 30.—The coroner's jury today rendered a verdict to the effect that Mrs. Nettie Fargo came to her death Thursday morning through an accident, being shot by her husband, Harry B. Fargo, while he was under the influence of violent excitement caused by her conduct.

Mr. Fargo, who had unexpectedly returned to the city Monday night from Illinois, found his wife away from home. On her return shortly after midnight with another man, Fargo made an attempt to shoot her escort, in his excitement the husband shot his wife.

TWO CONSULS TO BE SUPERSEDED

CHARGES MADE AGAINST CONSUL DICKEY AT CALLAO, PERU.

Consul General Berry M. de Leon, Accredited to Guayaquil, Equador, Will Not Return to His Post Because of Difficulties With Local Authorities.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—Investigation of charges made against W. B. Dickey of Louisiana has caused the state department to determine not to permit him to return to his post as consul at Callao, Peru. He will be succeeded by Mr. Charles V. Herdliska of the District of Columbia, consul at San Juan del Norte, Nicaragua, and formerly secretary of the United States legation in Vienna. The charges against Mr. Dickey were made by William S. McBride, formerly vice-consul at Callao.

The state department has decided to place another man in the consulate-generalship at Guayaquil, Ecuador, in place of Berry M. de Leon, who has just returned to the United States from his post. Friction has arisen between the local authorities in Guayaquil and Mr. de Leon. The selection of his successor has been made and will be announced shortly.

In his controversy with Mr. Dickey Mr. McBride has had the support of the "Abraham Lincoln post, G. A. R." of Lima, O. Mr. Dickey served in the Union army, and, after the war, settled in Louisiana. He was appointed consul at Baracoa, Cuba, under President Harrison, and President McKinley, in 1897, named him consul at Callao. This latter consulate pays $4,000 per annum. Mr. Dickey has just arrived in New York from his post.

Mr. de Leon was appointed to Guayaquil from Georgia, July 15, 1897. His particular activity in the case of the American Bolan, who had been imprisoned by the Ecuadorian courts in connection with a disputed railroad construction contract, was the matter which brought him into trouble with the authorities, taken in connection with the case of other Americans who claimed his good offices.

It is learned here to-day that Commander Beehler, United States naval attache at Berlin, Vienna and Rome, has had an experience very similar to that of Mr. Hart, the United States minister to Bogota. The naval officer was about to leave Berlin when his landlord lodged a bill for a considerable sum for what he declared to be damages sustained by his property through the officer's occupancy. Mr. Beehler regarded the charges as unwarranted, but the landlord invoked the aid of the law and prevented the commander from moving his chattels. The officer was obliged to call on the foreign office and assert his diplomatic privilege to avoid being detained in Berlin and suffer what he regarded as persecution.

BODIES WASHED ASHORE.

Corpses of Victims of River Disaster Recovered, But Many Are Yet Missing.

CAIRO, ILL., April 30.—The river continues to give up bodies of victims of the disaster of the steamboat City of Pittsburgh. The body of another of the Burke boys was taken out of the river just above Cairo today and the body of a colored roustabout just below the city. The body of William R. Bolinger of Cincinnati, steward of the City of Pittsburgh, was recovered near the wreck. The remains of three other unfortunates were found in the rear of the wreck. They were so badly burned that identification was impossible.

The body found last night has not been identified. The body of an elderly man was picked up below here near Belmont this morning, and is supposed to be either the body of Dow or of Adams of Ohio. The body of a boy was found in the river near Mound City, and it was supposed to be that of one of the McCullough children of Leavenworth, Ind.

MACARTHUR SAYS WAR WOULD FOLLOW IN THE PHILIPPINES.

He Denies That Unnecessary Butchery and Cruelty Have Been Indulged in and Takes on Himself Responsibility of Funston's Capture of Aguinaldo.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—Maj. Gen. MacArthur today gave further testimony before the senate committee on the Philippines. He said that the people of the Philippines, being less prepared for self-government and administration than any of the Latin-American republics at the time of their emancipation from Spain, their own unaided efforts to accomplish self-regeneration would in all probability prove abortive.

Even the best thinkers, he said, among the Filipinos have no conception whatever of the practical mechanical effects whereby the results they are all anxious to attain can be successfully accomplished. American withdrawal from the islands would, in his opinion, result in the permanent failure of republican institutions in the east and a fratricidal war which would continue until suppressed by some exterior force.

Gen. MacArthur declared that he did not mean that there has been any unusual destruction of life in the islands. "The destruction," said he, "is simply incident to war, and, of course, embraces a very small percentage of the total population, which is dense."

He referred to his many efforts to bring about a cessation of hostilities and stop the bloodshed. These efforts, he said, were directed to Aguinaldo through some of his friends because, in his opinion, Aguinaldo was "the incarnation of the revolution."

Responding to a question by Senator Carmack, Gen. MacArthur said that when he assumed the responsibility for the methods adopted in capturing Aguinaldo, he did so without conferring with the authorities at Washington.

MINORITY WANT MAJ. GARDENER ON THE STAND

Senator Patterson Desires to Call District Governor Home at Once.

SENATE TOOK NO ACTION

Mr. Lodge Took the Stand That, as the Regiment of the Officer in Question Was Coming Home Soon, He Would Be Here in Time.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 30.—A resolution offered in the senate today by Patterson (Col.) directing the secretary of war to order Maj. Gardner, now in the Philippines, to come immediately to Washington, to appear as a witness before the Philippine commission, precipitated a warm discussion. The debate continued for about two hours, considerable feeling being manifested on both sides of the chamber.

The charge was made by the minority that the majority of the committee was endeavoring to suppress facts and information. This was denied by the chairman of the committee, Mr. Lodge, who said that any such action would be inconceivably stupid. All parties, he insisted, were anxious for the fullest information, but he and others contended that it would not be advisable to cable to the Philippines for Maj. Gardener, as he was about to come home and would be here in time to appear before the committee. Mr. Patterson and Mr. Carmack (Tenn.) urged that Gardener's testimony was particularly important, and that it ought to be had before action was taken on the pending bill. The resolution finally went over until tomorrow.

No Action Taken.

The bill for the purchase of the Rosebud reservation in South Dakota and the sundry civil appropriation bill were considered, but no action was taken on them.

Mr. Patterson, in presenting his resolution, said it was the desire of the minority of the committee to get Maj. Gardener as a witness as soon as possible. The effort was made in good faith, as he was regarded as a valuable witness.

Mr. Tillman indicated his belief that information was being "smothered," and he demanded to know from Mr. Lodge whether he proposed "to dragoon the senate into a vote upon this measure."

Mr. Lodge replied laughingly that he wished he could dragoon the senate into a vote on the measure, but Mr. Tillman knew he could do nothing of the kind. He believed it would be preposterous for the senate to wait on a single witness.

Mr. Allison pointed out that nobody objected to the testimony of Maj. Gardener. His regiment would leave the Philippines soon.

No Decorations Necessary.

He intimated that Maj. Gardener was particularly anxious to be a witness, and personally he was not in favor of decorating him by ordering him by cablegram to come to this country in advance of his regiment.

Mr. Carmack (Tenn.) declared that the report made by Maj. Gardener was so startling and important that the secretary of war had endeavored to keep it from the senate and from the American people. He insisted that unless the proposed resolution were adopted Maj. Gardener would not get to Washington before congress adjourned.

Mr. Lodge, the chairman, said that Maj. Gardener ought to appear before the committee. Personally, he desired to hear his testimony before congress adjourned. He suggested, sarcastically, that Maj. Gardener was a particularly important witness because he seemed to agree in some respects with the minority. If the testimony of one provincial governor was desirable, that of the thirty-odd other provincial governors probably would be.

Other Governors Suggested.

"Has the senator suggested," interrupted Mr. Patterson, "that the other governors be called?"

"I make the suggestion now," retorted Mr. Lodge.

Continuing, Mr. Lodge said that the minority of the committee had suggested that Aguinaldo, Sixto Lopez, Mabini and some prisoners of war on the island of Guam; H. M. Bray, an agent of the Filipino junta at Hongkong, and two Associated Press correspondents, Mr. Collins at Peking and Mr. Martin in Venezuela, be called as witnesses. The committee had decided not to call them for various reasons. Admiral Dewey and Gen. Anderson, he said, would appear as witnesses, and the list of witnesses was of sufficient length to occupy the committee until the adjournment of congress.

The senate at 5:05 p. m. went into executive session and at 5:20 p. m. adjourned.

NO CHARGE AGAINST HART

Colombian Government Has Not Asked Minister's Recall—Petty Disputes in Bogota.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(Special.)—While in Washington a few days ago en route to his home in West Virginia, Mr. Hart, the United States minister to Bogota, explained to state department officials the facts which form the basis of charges preferred against him by individuals in Colombia.

A merchant named Carillo alleged that Minister Hart's son, who is in business in Bogota, availed himself of the exemption from duty of the ministerial mail pouch to bring in goods. The charge, however, was formally withdrawn by the maker. Then Mr. Hart's landlord preferred a claim for damages to his property when vacated by the minister. The minister regarded the charge as extortionate, though he professed his willingness to pay just damages if any had been done.

The Colombian government did not adopt these charges as its own, nor did it declare the minister persona non grata. It simply, through former Minister Silva, submitted to the state department the various allegations as matters of information, leaving the department free to act as it saw fit. Mr. Hart's explanation is believed to have been satisfactory.

MEETS AGAIN SATURDAY

Recorder J. O. Brown Was Principal Motive in Yesterday's Meeting and Court House Leaders and Allegheny Machine Men Followed.

The Republican county primaries will not be postponed. The action of the county committee yesterday apparently leaves no room for a change in this program. Yesterday's proceedings also showed plainly that Recorder J. O. Brown and the court house leaders are working together in harmony.

The members controlled by Recorder Brown, the court house leaders and the Allegheny city hall machine forced a unit in favor of amendments introduced whereby the time for holding the county conventions is fixed for Monday, June 9, instead of Tuesday, June 10. The number of conventions and the officers to be chosen will be decided next Saturday afternoon, when the county committee meets again to pass finally upon matters presented yesterday. The rules require that at least two days shall elapse before amendments can be finally acted upon.

Recorder Brown Ran Things.

The amendments presented yesterday were framed and offered by Recorder Brown, who was seconded at every step by the court house leaders. The stalwart Republican members of the committee were conspicuous by their absence. The attendance was unusually slim, not half the members of the committee being present. Not a single member from any of the East End wards was there. There was a fair representation of the Allegheny city hall organization, but the anti-Murphy members from Allegheny followed the example of the anti-machine men on this side of the river and remained away.

County Chairman A. C. Robertson, who is stated to succeed himself, called the committee to order and stated that the object of the meeting was to amend the rules so as to advance the date of the county conventions one day that the delegates to the state convention might be able to get to Harrisburg on time. He said the state convention was set for June 11 and that it would be necessary to change the date of the county conventions from June 10 to June 9.

What the Amendments Provide.

Chairman Robertson added that no other business was to be transacted. This statement was confirmed by the speedy adjournment as soon as Recorder Brown presented his amendments. His first amendment was to amend rule 6, by adding at the end the following:

Provided, That the county committee shall, at least one month prior to the first Saturday of June, one month prior to the time for the election of delegates to the several conventions, and at any meeting of said committee, fix the number of delegates to be nominated, and the officers to be nominated, and such conventions for the nomination of all candidates shall be held on the day following the election of delegates thereto. Provided this amendment shall apply to primary elections or conventions, or either of conventions, held or had during the year 1902.

The second amendment provides for primary changes in the time set for the meeting of the county conventions and the contest committees. The county conventions will meet in the morning at 10 o'clock instead of at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, as formerly. The contest committee will meet at 9 a. m. instead of at noon.

They have made a grievous error," said Andrew Fulton when he heard of what the committee had done. "They want their primaries and nominate the state and then the people will rebuke the whole lot. The weakest man on the ticket will be Recorder Von Bonnhorst, as the people will not stand for a third term for him in that office."

The Citizens are working energetically to extend their organization throughout the county. Every legislative district in the county outside of Pittsburgh has been organized, including the First and Second Allegheny and the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth districts. Maj. J. W. Nesbit, local insurance agent and an appointee of Senator Quay, is chairman of the Sixth district organization.

LABOR-SAVING DEVICE.

Glassmaking Machinery Patented in Several Countries Likely to Complicate Bottle Situation.

Ingast Bros. of Pittsburgh, owning the Pittsburgh Seamless Bottle Company, whose extensive works at Everson, yesterday secured letters patent in the United States, Canada, England, Germany, France and Belgium for glassmaking machinery which promises to completely upset all present trade methods in the bottle, jar, ware and bottle factories.

The machine is for making what are called "blanks," to be blown into narrow necked bottles and hollow ware. It eliminates all skilled labor and can be operated by a girl with more ease than operation of a typewriter.

In the production the machine will decrease the shop labor by fully 150 per cent. The new machine, requiring none of the skilled men of the unions, is not expected to come within their province and the advantage will be with the manufacturer. Under the old system the labor cost for a gross of two-ounce vials is about 40 cents, while with the new machine it will be about 15 cents.

The new machine presses five pieces of hollow glassware at once, while with all other machines only one is made, and skilled men are required to operate them.

At this time there is practically an open market in the bottle trade, regardless of the association of most of the producers. Prices are so low that profits are nearly wiped out. The new machine may complicate matters.

DOUGHTY GAVE BAIL.

The Ex-Alderman Held for Court for Shooting Mrs. Laura Kroner.

Former Alderman David Doughty was yesterday held for court on a charge of felonious assault and battery. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000 by Magistrat S. F. Kerr.

On April 17 Doughty and the family of John Sayer had a discussion about the renting of a house. Doughty pulled a revolver and fired five shots.

The second of the shots struck Mrs. Laura Kroner, who was on her steps some distance away. The bullet hit her in the shoulder. The wound of itself is not serious but on account of the health of the woman the shock was severe, and she is still in danger. She was a witness at the hearing yesterday, but was unable to complete her testimony.

Tornado Kills Two Women.

GUTHRIE, O. K., April 30.—A tornado passed over the town of Davenport, situated on the railroad in Lincoln county, last night, doing much damage to crops and several farm houses were blown down. Mrs. John Penn and her daughter were killed.

Gone After a Fugitive—Detective James W. Eagan left last night for Fredonia, N. Y., to bring back L. Battaglia of Carnegie, who is wanted for obtaining goods on false pretenses, for which he was indicted before the grand jury yesterday, on the testimony of Cruchfield & Wallfolk, commission merchants of this city.

Only One Was Injured—The fire clay stopper of one of the furnaces in open hearth mill No. 3 of the Homestead steel works blew out yesterday morning and several tons of metal followed. Some of it fell into a pool of water, and there was an explosion that shook the plant. A laborer was injured. Fifty men had narrow escapes.

Fourth Case from One House—A case of smallpox was reported to the bureau of health yesterday from the rear of No. 275 Frankstown avenue, whence three cases had already been taken. Yesterday's case was that of a negro child, Leona Walker, whose mother and two sisters are down with the disease, contracted from a man who stopped at the house.

Murder Suspects Discharged—The three persons arrested in Apollo on Tuesday, in connection with the Reed murder, were discharged yesterday afternoon by Deputy Coroners Charles Bender and Leo Tomaszeski as there was not sufficient evidence to hold them. There were two women and one man arrested for the tragedy and they are to attend the inquest held here on Friday morning.

Change Was Costly—Dan Foley was found at the cash drawer of Charles Meik's butcher shop at Wylie avenue and Chatham street yesterday morning when Meik opened up. Meik thought Foley was a thief and had an officer take him in charge. Foley explained that he had simply gone to the cash drawer of the meat shop to get change for a quarter. Magistrate McKenna fined him $25.

Say She Didn't Use Acid—Relatives of Elsie P. Hudson, 17 years of age, who died suddenly at the home of her mother, No. 263 Thirty-second street, on Tuesday night, say she did not die by reason of a careless use of carbolic acid, as published, but of convulsions. The young woman had been sick for some time and was under the care of a physician.

She Gave the Presents Back—John Laricola, 26 years of age, an organ grinder, living at No. 906 Webster avenue, bemoans the loss of Louisa Polmer, whom he said he was to have married last Sunday. He suspects she has gone with a handsomer man, who also grinds an organ, and as the other fellow has gone to Baltimore he can "carra de monk." Before Louisa left she placed all the presents Laricola had given her in his trunk.

Will Be Musical Treat—On Monday evening, May 12, the Braddock Carnegie Library band, recently organized and equipped by Thomas Morrison, general manager of the Edgar Thomson steel works, will make its first public appearance in Carnegie music hall, Braddock. The band will have 50 members and is maintained at Mr. Morrison's expense. A series of concerts will be given during the summer.

Site for New School—At a meeting of the Munhall school board yesterday it was decided to close the deal for the ground surrounding the borough's present school building with the Carnegie Land Company, and to erect on it a new school building. The ground is bounded by Andrew, Martha, Eleventh and Twelfth streets. The new building will cost $50,000. The cost of the ground is in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Be Careful Whom You Pay—A collector's book of the Humane society has been lost and it has been reported to the society that some unknown person is soliciting in the name of the society. Woman Hurt in Runaway Car—A car on the East Pittsburgh division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company ran away last night on Bessemer terrace, East Pittsburgh. There was a derailing switch part way down the grade and the car ran into it. The car then struck against the side of the bank, throwing the only passenger, Mrs. E. A. Couts of Jones avenue, North Braddock, the length of the car. She had her right shoulder dislocated.

Sought Master Until Death—Because his little master, David Cohen, had been badly injured by being run over by a street car in Penn avenue on Monday night, his little pet fox terrier dog has been disconsolate, and has been running about the streets trying to find him. In almost the same place in which the boy was injured, the dog was killed yesterday by a street car. The dog and the boy had been inseparable companions. The boy is likely to survive his injuries.

Will Be Paid in Sections—The Westinghouse Electric Company at East Pittsburgh, with its 9,000 employes, has been having considerable trouble for some time with its paydays. All of the employes have been receiving their pay on the 8th and 23d of each month, and all of the clerks, no matter in what capacity they have been employed, had to work on the paydays. It is now intended to pay the employes in divisions and there will be four paydays, at the first and last of the month, commencing on the 3d and 19th of each month.

Didn't Like Township's Taxes—Lincoln Place, in Mifflin township, is to become a borough. The residents have been considering the advisability of the move for some time. The figures of the township assessors have given the movement a new impetus. It is said that a levy of five mills will be made for road tax and the schools tax will be unusually high. Residents of Lincoln Place object to this and think they can do as well if they form a borough. Arrangements are now being made to collect data and a meeting is expected soon.

Fire in Wilkinsburg—Three one-story stores in Wilkinsburg were destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. The buildings were owned by J. S. McKelvey, and his loss is $5,000, covered by insurance. J. W. Matey carried a $3,000 shoe stock and had $2,000 insurance. Frank Straw, dealer in tobacco and supplies, had a $3,000 stock and $2,000 insurance. Thomas H. Long, dealer in furnishing goods, had a $4,000 stock and nearly as much insurance. The buildings were at the corner of Penn avenue and Wood street.

Had Two Names—The man who dropped dead at the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street on Monday has been positively identified at Herman Schmidt, who for three weeks had been boarding in Second avenue, and as Frank Snyder, who for the same time had been working as a florist. W. F. Lauch, who identified him as Snyder, said that he came to Pittsburgh to receive medical attention. James Willett, who identified him as Schmidt, said that he was a traveling photographer, and that he did not occupy his Second avenue room the night before he dropped dead. The coroner decided yesterday, without witnesses, that the man's name was Snyder.

PROTEST FROM SALESMEN.

Resolutions Condemning the Meat Trust Passed by K. of L. Assembly.

Salesmen's assembly No. 4907, Knights of Labor, at a meeting last night condemned the combination controlling the prices of meat and other food products. Attorney General P. C. Knox was commended for the action he has taken. The resolutions adopted urge that the representatives in Washington pass the necessary legislation to forever prevent such combinations, and advises all members of assemblies of the Knights of Labor to give no support to representatives who fail to assist in this way.

For the meeting of the Labor day committee in Old City hall on Sunday, May 11, O. A. Ainsworth, J. A. Bacharach and M. A. Wittis were selected as delegates.

Downtown Water Deficiency.

The inquiry into the recent water shortage gave Fire Marshal McGill another opportunity yesterday to impress upon the city the need of improving the water supply in the business section of Pittsburgh and throughout the city. The fact that the volume of water is insufficient has been heretofore impressed rather forcibly by the pink slip method, and while the slip remains it is a constant reminder of a serious municipal deficiency. The need for a greater volume of water grows with the downtown improvements and will be felt in an increasing degree. If proper action is not taken the insurance companies may feel impelled even to supplement the present slip. But that aside, the assurance is given that as soon as the deficiency complained of is remedied the pink slip (or in other words the extra expense) will be taken off. As this, according to Marshal McGill's statement, amounts in two years to a sum sufficient to provide complete such a system as is demanded the weight with which it bears on the business interests of the city is apparent. In prosperous times like the present this unnecessary and burdensome tax may not be felt as a serious handicap, but in a period of depression it would be hard to bear with anything approaching patience.

The Evil and Its Remedy.

Some further facts pertaining to the freight congestion in the Pittsburgh district appear in our news columns. They emphasize what has gone before concerning the losses suffered by this region. They also indicate that the blockade has been far more severe in the Pittsburgh district than in other parts of the country. This should not be, for Pittsburgh, the greatest tonnage producer in the world, should have at least as good service as any other place.

It may be assumed that President Watt of the Pennsylvania system and controller of the Baltimore & Ohio is now pretty fully informed concerning the needs of this region, and that he will take most energetic measures to afford relief to our shippers. The position of those roads makes them the most important factor. When they are ready to do their part it ought not to be said that the municipality of Pittsburgh withholds concessions necessary to their plans for betterment. The city has a right to compensation for the privileges conveyed, but it is the policy to obstruct the expansion of roads already here or to prevent the entrance of others.

A Neglected Opportunity.

The neglect of the Republican county committee at its meeting yesterday to take notice of the demand for postponement of the primaries for county offices until September was unfortunate. A popular demand for such postponement has been voiced time and again, and has been approved by several persons understood to be candidates, but strenuously opposed by others. There is no question that a county ticket would be materially strengthened by action that would remove the suspicion of snap judgment, the opportunity to gain popular favor by referring to the popular will to be given away. There is no reason to doubt that in the minds of the people that the party which has the regis- instead of personal private

Only fortunate accident saved the lives of the two policemen who were injured in the encounter, for it was evident the thieves intended to kill rather than be taken. Evidently the history of burglary and murder, with its attendant sensational results, within the past 18 months in Allegheny county has not impressed upon the minds of criminals the danger of housebreaking as a pastime. Mawkish sentiment helped to dim the force of the example of the Biddle brothers. Thieves have undertaken another campaign, this time with stores and office buildings in the suburban towns as their especial prey. The capture of the men engaged in the Crafton burglary would doubtless mean the rounding up of the gang of thieves responsible for the robberies at Braddock, Oakdale, Bridgeville and Millvale, and the gathering in of another group of murderous thieves whose presence in the community is a menace to life as well as to property. Another matter of great importance emphasized by the struggle on the part of the two policemen who were wounded by the burglars is the necessity for stronger police protection in our own suburbs and in towns adjacent to Pittsburgh. Until the terror of the law is brought home to the hearts of criminals and outlaws by sternly repressive measures and adequate penalties the thieving will go on. The more effectively and promptly this is done the better it will be.

The People and the Meat Combine.

If at the end of the chapter the meat packers and dealers alleged to be associated in an unlawful combine shall form a corporation to take over all their interests they will materially improve their own standing and do no harm to the public. It is not in corporate union of interests that the people are injured, but by agreements in restraint of trade, manifested in various ways. It is on the alleged ground of an agreement in restraint of trade that the government has proceeded against the meat packers, and the president and Attorney General Knox are to be commended because of the fact that action has been taken. It is needless to specify the several charges that are made against the meat combine further than to say the dominant complaint is that it has so manipulated the markets that the price of an important article of food has been unduly raised to the consumer, so as to constitute an oppression. The attorney general has declared that he has sufficient evidence to justify him in proceeding in the courts in behalf of the people, and his action has been generally indorsed, as it should be. At the same time it must be apparent that the people have a remedy in their own possession quicker and more powerful in its effect than the remedy at law sought by the national administration. The effectiveness of any combine is grounded in its profits, and the meat combine does not differ from others in its dependence for vitality on the proceeds of its sales. If the people who complain of the high price of meat will curtail their purchases for a time they will discover that they and not the "beef barons" are in control of the situation. There is not a family able to supply itself with the necessaries of life than cannot shorten its consumption of meat without suffering deprivation. The market is full of wholesome substitutes even now, and the supply will be soon more abundant. Far from suffering deprivation in turning to these from flesh food it will be found a distinct benefit. Most people eat too much meat at all times, and at this season of the year will be all the better in health and spirits for cutting it largely from the daily bill of fare. Many are doing so, and curtailments of purchase must have the effect of bringing down the price to the consumer. No combination can hold out against the laws of trade judiciously and intelligently aided and abetted by a determined people. An anti-trust movement such as this is bound to win, and will be as good for the health as for the pocketbook.

The Philadelphia Horror.

A causeless panic in a tobacco factory employing hundreds of girls was responsible for a disaster in Philadelphia yesterday as remarkable as it was terrible. It was such an accident as might happen at any time in any similar establishment. The basis for it was a cry of alarm at the crushing of a boy in an elevator shaft, misinterpreted to be a cry of fire. Then began a race for the stairways, the leaders in which tripped in their course and fell, the whole mass behind being thereby blocked and impeded, becoming an unreasoning, fighting, uncontrollable mob, adding to the confusion and terror with each instant of time and spreading death and injury with the vehemence of their struggles for freedom. Others far in the rear, finding the passage blocked, resorted to the windows and some leaped therefrom. The list of dead and injured is eloquent of the horror of the situation. The one thing for public inquiry is whether facilities for escape were sufficient had there really been a fire. As for the rest it is not worth while to attempt to analyze a panic or argue against the folly that caused a horror that is an accomplished fact. But it has its lesson that is very apparent for similar institutions.

That Affair at Venice.

It is extremely galling to American pride that three officers and a marine of the United States cruiser Chicago have been imprisoned at Venice, Italy, under circumstances which seem to make such punishment entirely unjustifiable. At least two of these officers, Wynne and Doddridge, have distinguished themselves by gallantry in defense of their country's flag, and it is hard to believe that any of the prisoners has committed any misdemeanor warranting arrest and imprisonment in a foreign nation.

The men in custody have thus far been unable to give their version of the affair, and the report made by the commander of the Chicago is far from satisfactory in regard to details. According to this report the most serious charge against the men is that of resisting the police, which appears to be a very grave offense in Italy. Capt. Dayton, however, explains that the alleged resistance was largely due to the pressing in of the crowd and the fact that the men from the cruiser did not understand the language. This explanation appears to be entirely reasonable. But even had the men been guilty of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest there might have been an exhibition of that international courtesy which waives local rights and leaves to the commanding officer of the offenders the form of punishment.

The developments thus far indicate undue haste, if not a vengeful spirit in condemning these members of the Chicago's crew, and it is the duty of the United States government to make a thorough investigation as speedily as possible.

The mere proposition to hold the annual encampment of the Pennsylvania national guard on the Gettysburg battlefield will stir patriotic sentiment in the breasts of the boys in blue, sons and successors of the men who met secession at its flood at Gettysburg and turned it back. There is much to be said from the side of the guard in favor of tenting on the old campground, but it is doubtful whether the Gettysburg battlefield association will welcome the proposition for the encampment of so large a body of men on the historic ground for a full week. Aside from the force of the possible objection from that quarter the suggestion is one to be heartily indorsed.

While it is urged in defense of our belligerent marines at Venice that they could not understand or speak the language it is apparent from perusal of the cabled news that he was a dense in which the actions of all concerned were much more expressive than words. Undoubtedly the Americans are not guilty, but they shouldn't do it again and probably won't.

The house of representatives having passed a resolution asking information of the state department as to whether American citizens of Jewish faith are excluded from Russia, it may be in order to remark that Russia is so good a place to get away from that everybody ought to be satisfied to let it go at that, especially persons of the Jewish faith.

The death of Captain Albers of the Hamburg-American steamship Deutschland takes out of service a skilled and gallant chief from the ranks of latterday seamen whose knowledge of the ocean paths is only second to their urbanity and usefulness as commanders of the modern ocean palaces.

Spoke for Whole American People.

From the Washington Post.

We have prayerfully examined Secretary Shaw's speech—it was delivered before the American Republican club at Pittsburgh last Saturday evening—and we fail to discover in it anything of which a loyal citizen of the United States need be ashamed. It was a thoroughly American utterance. Outside of the little ranks of the Anglomaniacs, nobody in this republic cares a continental what London thinks about our public men or our national policies. The Globe may rave to its heart's content and the chancelleries of Europe throw as many fits as they like, but Mr. Shaw spoke on that occasion for practically the whole American people, and the sooner the fact is understood the better for all concerned.

He Merely Spoke of the Inevitable.

From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Secretary Shaw's Pittsburgh American club speech has not pleased the London Globe, which regards the manner of its reception as an indication of American decadence. All that Secretary Shaw said, however, was that the United States must rule the seas and the Stars and Stripes replace the Union Jack over the merchant vessels of the world. There is nothing in this for the London Globe to lose its temper over, more particularly as it knows that Secretary Shaw was merely speaking of the inevitable.

Mrs. Sangster's Definition of Talent.

Talent is aptitude for a given line. In the old Bible significance it is power intrusted to one for a specific use. Everybody has some talent worth cultivating. The more we use what we originally have, the greater becomes its value.—May Ladies' Home Journal.

Mr. Carnegie Scored One on the Reporters

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, April 30.

Andrew Carnegie got even with the newspaper reporters this morning. It was on the promenade deck of the steamer St. Louis, just before she started for Europe, and a photographer had asked permission to take a photograph of Mr. Carnegie. The multi-millionaire Pittsburgher smiled with that shrewd twinkle so well known. "You can take me if you take these boys, too," he said, as he indicated the reporters. And so it was. Mr. Carnegie posed the group himself, and his picture, with half a dozen newspaper men, appears in an evening paper. As is usual with Mr. Carnegie, he was like a schoolboy off for a holiday as he stood on the deck of the liner, chatting about everything except iron and steel. He said he was going away for six months, and expected to have some good fishing. There is only one place in the world for fishing, according to the laird, and that is Scotland. Charles M. Schwab and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. King were with him, and when someone asked Mr. Carnegie if he would say anything about business conditions he pointed to Mr. Schwab and said, with a smile: "Here is my business man. Ask him." This was an easy way of getting rid of the question, for Mr. Schwab had nothing to say, either. Mr. Carnegie would not say anything of importance. He enjoyed the photographing incident, for he laughed heartily over it, and evidently seemed to think he had scored a point over his old friends, the reporters. It is remarkable that in the group picture Mr. Carnegie looks as dapper and almost as young, with his 65 years of life behind him, as the young newspaper men, hardly any of whom were much over 30.

Rochambeau Statue Here.

The statue of Rochambeau, which is to be erected in Washington, arrived at New York today by the steamer Friesland. It came from Antwerp. Mme. Cambon, wife of the French ambassador, who came to this country a few days ago, is here primarily to witness the dedication of the statue.

No Quarantine on Cuba.

For the first time in many years New York will not maintain a quarantine against vessels from Cuba this summer. Sanitary methods under American direction have pretty well stamped out yellow jack in Cuban towns, and unless there should be a fresh outbreak of the disease there will be no danger of infection from ships coming to this port.

Talking With New Yorkers.

William M. Allison, Jr., a well-known Pittsburgher, is in New York. He is interested in coal and oil lands, and is in this city to see some of the influential men therewith. Mr. Allison was formerly associated with Pittsburgh newspapers.

Ovation for Paderwski.

Paderewski had an ovation as he stood on the deck of the big Oceanic. There were many hundreds of women, who went to get a last glimpse of their idol, and Paderewski blew kisses to them in the airy-fairy way peculiar to him. He said he would be back, but probably not for two seasons. He cleared $125,000 for his personal share this winter, according to his manager, and Paderewski did not deny it. The famous pianist looked very well, and as he removed his hat and allowed the breezes of the North river to whistle through his bushy hair he was a striking figure, even without his reputation as the greatest pianist of his time.

Ashore on Romer Shoals.

Almost as much dreaded by mariners as the Goodwin sands, across the Atlantic, is that sandbank, some two miles off Sandy Hook, known as Romer shoals. The British bark Mary Moore was ashore there all day. The captain was coming along in the fog early this morning and ran the nose of his craft on the treacherous shoals before he knew that he was near them. No lives were lost, fortunately, as often has been the case when a ship has run on Romer. The captain and some of his crew manned a yawl and rowed the weary miles up the bay to Stapleton, Staten Island, where they got a wrecking tug to go to the assistance of the ship. It is an expensive as well as dangerous thing to get on Romer shoals, as any old salt can tell you.

Thief Was Too Spry.

Policemen generally are good runners. Sprinting is part of their official education, and a man on the force that cannot outrun the speediest crook he may happen to foregather with is not considered perfect. But there are policemen that meet their match in a foot race now and then. Doupe is the name of a patrolman who caught a burglar this morning, and then—lost him. The thief slipped under Doupe's arm and loped away like a jack rabbit, at such a rate that Doupe was left hopelessly behind in the first lap. If there is any policeman in New York who wishes he was dead it is Doupe, when his comrades get him in the back room at the police station.

Mann Was Disturbed.

Louis Mann is mad because someone has spread the report that he will star in a Hebrew comedy, under the management of the Sire brothers of this city. Mann has written to the New York papers about it. He says there is not a vestige of truth in it and that the report is calculated to interfere with his real plans. Having set himself right with the world, Mr. Mann resumes his successful tour in "All on Account of Eliza," and allows the rest of the world to wag on in its own way.

Aldermen on the Diamond.

There is fun ahead for New York, particularly to that part of which enjoys baseball. The Brooklyn aldermen will play a match game of baseball with the aldermen from Manhattan on the 9th of May at Washington park. The Brooklyn gentlemen will be under the captaincy of the famous Alderman Bridges of the copious, if not always polished, English tongue, and the happy possessor of a "funeral coat." Alderman Bridges generally dominates the meetings of the board of aldermen with an exceedingly brassy voice, and doubtless will be heard on the ball field when the game is in full swing. It may be remembered that when a member of Bridges' household was asked whether he had evening clothes in which to meet Prince Henry of Prussia, the naive answer was that he had a "funeral coat." On ordinary occasions the alderman is resplendent in a knockabout business suit of the "sack" variety.

Open Cars In Gotham.

Open cars are the rule all over the city, and the feeling is general that spring has come. There are other indications, such as the removal of the heavy revolving doors at the entrances to office buildings, the growing habit of business men to dash about without overcoats and with their under coats wide open, the appearance of straw hats here and there, and the increased sale of bananas and other fruits. It certainly is spring in New York, and it will be only a few weeks until the roof gardens open, and perhaps we shall have comic opera at Terrace garden.

Emery, a Wise One.

Emery, the local weather forecaster, has been hitting the weather in his prognostications pretty well of late and was in a good humor today. So he made a few remarks about local conditions that were decidedly interesting. Said he: "In the little island of Manhattan some persons have noted a marked difference in temperature in different parts. Central park, for instance, is colder than City Hall park. That is due to the lack of buildings in the former—less sun reflection and freer play for breezes. The influence of buildings on the temperature is great. New York's temperature varies, too, under the influence of the coast and the direction of the winds."

Pittsburghers Sail Away.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan E. Gable were Pittsburgh passengers on the Oceanic for Europe today. Mrs. Slack-Davis was also a passenger on the steamer.

Coal Prices Advanced.

Coal will be coal in New York this summer. As announced a few days ago, the price of anthracite is to go up 10 cents a ton each month. The first increase will be tomorrow, the first of May, and there is general dismay expressed. When the rise was a week or so away it did not look so threatening. But now that it is right upon us there is much wailing and many expressions of disgust. But the prices go up just the same.

New Styles Cause Failure.

A Broadway firm of importers of artificial flowers, Israelson, Lowith & Co., has failed because Dame Fashion has decreed a change in the style of women's hats. Not so many flowers are used in hat trimmings this year as for several seasons past, and the firm, depending on the sale of flowers for its prosperity, has felt the change to its sorrow. The liabilities are $50,000 and the assets between $10,000 and $15,000.

Old Custom Censured.

The police "system" received a hard blow today. William A. Miles, a roundsman, was reduced to the ranks by Commissioner Partridge on the charge of failing to return property to a prisoner after his release. Time was when a little omission of this kind would not have been worth any one's while to tell, but things are different now and the police are obliged to toe the mark with precision or fear from their superiors. This action today was the first since the revision of the charter. It is possible that other reductions will be made now that a precedent has been set, if policemen do not take care of themselves.

Whistler Had a Reason.

There is a story going the rounds of the studios about lower Fifth avenue that has been repeated once or twice in print lately, but is good enough to give again. It is about James McNeill Whistler, which is so thoroughly characteristic of the gentle master of all that is fine and flippant in art that it may be true. A certain gentleman whose portrait Whistler had painted failed to appreciate the work and finally remarked: "After all, Mr. Whistler, you cannot call that a great work of art." "Perhaps not," replied the painter, "but then you cannot call yourself a great work of nature."

Circus "King" in New York.

James A. Bailey, the dean of the circus profession, is in New York again. He is the "Bailey" in the Barnum & Bailey circus firm, and for several years has been the head of the Barnum circus. He came to America yesterday on the Kronprinz Wilhelm and is arranging for the presentation of his show in New York soon. He is preparing to organize another Barnum & Bailey show and will have two of them in operation—one in Europe and the other in America. George O. Starr, one of Mr. Bailey's lieutenants, who was a Pittsburgh theatrical manager for several years, was in New York a few weeks ago on the same sort of mission. He is in Europe now with the show. Mr. Bailey is about 70 years of age, but is as vigorous and active as a man of 30. He is an old-time circus man and often has seized a toe stake and sprung into the battlefield for doughty deeds as the thrilling shout of "Hey, Rube!" called the circus forces to action against town toughs, particularly in the west. Mr. Bailey is full of interesting reminiscence, but, unlike many old showmen, he does not insist that the old times were better than the new. He says that the circus was never before such a great and creditable institution as it is today.

Excitement on 'Change.

There was plenty of excitement in Wall street today, when International Power went down 78 points. The stock was not important enough to do any damage outside of its own immediate scope, but it was the cause of much noise and bustle on the street this afternoon, particularly among the curb brokers.

The Game an Old One.

A man who keeps his eyes open as he walks along the streets of New York dilated this afternoon on a phase of city life that is as old as the hills, in Pittsburgh as well as elsewhere, but is always interesting, especially to the cynic. Said this individual sorrowfully: "New York beats any place I ever saw for collecting a crowd for practically no reason. You talk about your busy people, men and women rushing along with ceaseless energy, never seeing or thinking of anything but making money. Pshaw, it is all nonsense. Just go downtown in the narrow streets, where both sides of the street are crowded with humanity ever moving along like the waves of the sea, but, unlike the waves of the sea, you can get them all to halt, no matter how important their business, before a man painting some little sign or a hod-carrier laying bricks. Now, there is nothing new in seeing a man paint a sign. I presume every one of them saw that done dozens of times before; yet because one stops and looks they all stop and look, and none of them can tell you why."

PERSONALS.

"The present price of beef is not nearly so high as is looked for in the west in the near future," said W. H. Wishart, a merchant of Chicago, last night as he was returning to his home from a two weeks' business trip to the metropolis. "The beef trust has just started to raise prices on beef and with all the injunctions that can be gotten out against it the price of meat will go up just the same. If there was no beef trust meat would be high at the present time on account of the scarcity of cattle. The cause of the shortage was the short corn and grass crops last fall."

"Everything looks decidedly blue in the eastern end of the state for Attorney General Elkin's election to the gubernatorial chair," said State Senator J. W. Cochran of Williamsport, Pa., at the Union station last night. "The Twenty-fourth senatorial district, which I represent, has elected delegates to the state convention uninstructed, which virtually means that they will not vote for Elkin. The Democrats of the state are hoping that Mr. Elkin will get the nomination. Lycoming county people are all against the candidate from Indiana county and people all over the state are predicting another Delamater campaign."

NO CONFERENCE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—Having received a letter from the president of the Republican club of New York, stating that he had arranged for a conference between Attorney General Knox and representatives of the packing companies, the attorney general today replied as follows:

"Your action requesting representatives of packing companies to meet me is unwarranted by my letter of April 28, and was without my knowledge or any intimation to me that you proposed doing so until receipt of your letter of the 28th. I regret that you have assumed to arrange conferences which misrepresent the government's position."

TALKING STAGE ENDED.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—B. F. Tillinghast of Davenport, Ia., today made an argument before the senate committee on foreign relations in support of the bill granting an annuity of $5,000 to Miss Clara Barton, president of the Red Cross society, for distinguished services.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

Mirth and Music Will Predominate in Next Week's Theatrical Offerings.

The sale of seats for the new comic opera "Maid Marian," which the Sextonians present at the Alvin theater next week, begins this morning at the box office. "Maid Marian" is a sequel to "Robin Hood" and is presented on a magnificent scale of splendor with a special cast, which is promised one of the most competent ever heard in light opera. Barnabee, Macdonald, Frothingham, Fitzgerald and Bartlett have congenial roles, and the new actors, Grace Van Studdiford, Adele Ritchie, Adele Rafford, Frank Rushford, Allan Hinckley, Maud Raid Dorrington and others, are said to be most effective additions to the organization.

Alexander Salvini's version of "Oen Caesar De Bazan" will be given a magnificent scenic production at the Grand next week. Manager Davis made special arrangements with Salvini's widow for the manuscript of the play, together with the scene models as employed by young Salvini in his starring tour of "Don Caesar." Additional interest has been given this play of Binney's through its exploitation this season in different versions by William Faversham and James K. Hackett.

"A Jolly American Tramp," a comedy drama, by the author of Joe Smith Russell's successes, "Peaceful Valley" and "A Poor Relation," will be the bill at the Bijou next week, commencing with a matinee on Monday. Among the most noted of its players are the names of Jack Allen, Kitty Bigham, Carrie Godfrey, Margaret Meredith, Vera Wilson, Harry Clifton, C. E. Grahame, the Harold Square Comedy Four, the Clover Leaf quartet and others.

Weber & Fields' famous musical comedy, "Fiddle-Dee-Dee," will play a return engagement at the Empire theater the week of May 5. This is one of the largest and strongest traveling organizations in the world today. Since it was here before it has been strengthened in many ways. Miss Truly Shattuck, the California nightingale, who is one of the most beautiful women, both in face and figure, on the stage today, is now playing the part of Mrs. Meadowbrook. The chorus has no equal for singing and dancing.

During four seasons "The Telephone Girl," that merry jingle from the New York Casino, which will appear at the Duquesne theater next week, has ranked as one of the most prominent attractions on the road, and this season, its fifth, it is said it will prove more entertaining than ever. Like most comedies, the plot of "The Telephone Girl" is subsidiary a thread, so to speak, upon which to hang a lot of peculiar comedy, pretty music and for the display of comely maidens.

In the "Merry Maidens Company," at the Academy next week, the standard of excellence which characterized its first season is still maintained. The material is clean, wholesome and excellently presented; the music lively, the humor mirth-provoking. So cleverly are the two burlesques, "A Gay Time at the Capital" and "The Bath Beach Bathers," done by this organization, that the performance is a big hit everywhere.

GOOD AUDIENCE AT DUQUESNE GARDEN

Last Night's "Pop" Concert Was Largely Devoted to Compositions of the Local Conductor.

The pleasant weather last evening, a grateful change from the rain and gloom, turned people's thoughts to more cheerful channels and the audience that gathered at Duquesne garden to listen to the popular concert of the Pittsburgh orchestra was a good-sized one. It was an appreciative audience as well.

Last night was "Herbert Night," and the admirers of the conductor were given an opportunity to hear some of his compositions played by those best able to bring out all that the composer intended. One of the selections composed by Victor Herbert, "Panamericana," written for the Buffalo exposition, was played for the first time in Pittsburgh. Another selection new to many Pittsburghers, was the "Valse" by Herbert March," dedicated to the local conductor by the composer himself.

Tonight is "Symphony Night," and the garden and the following program will be presented:

Bridegroomsmarch, from "Sigurd Jorsalfar" ..... Grieg
Overture, "Sakuntala" ..... Goldmark
Andante and Finale, from Concerto in C minor ..... Mendelssohn
Mr. Lugi von Kunits.
Fantasie, from "The Serenade" ..... Herbert

CARNEGIE GIVES MANY LIBRARIES BEFORE LEAVING

Latest Beneficence Will Enrich Twenty Cities of Country.

COST MORE THAN $1,000,000

Ironmaster Is Anxious That Site Be Secured for Polytechnic School Immediately and That Work Be Well Begun by November.

On the eve of his departure for Skibo castle, Andrew Carnegie made the announcement to President William M. Frew of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute in New York last Tuesday evening, that he had just completed that day a new list of 20 libraries which he has given to various cities in the United States.

ANDREW CARNEGIE.
Before Sailing for Skibo, Libraries to Twenty American Cities, at a Cost of $1,000,000.

The latest list of gifts will amount to over $1,000,000, and the libraries will be located in cities of below the third class. There are no especially large gifts in the list, and the institutions will range in price from $20,000 to $75,000.

Mr. Carnegie appeared to be very happy as he made the announcement to the Tuesday evening," said Mr. Frew. He evidently felt that he had finished a hard task in distributing the many dollars, and believes he has allotted every city in the list fairly.

When I asked Mr. Carnegie the location of some of the proposed institutions he did not answer directly, but said were located in the cities where they would do the most good for humanity. Mr. Carnegie seemed happy that he was soon to set sail for his native land, and said that he had earned a long rest, and hoped to have a very pleasant vacation.

"It is Mr. Carnegie's intention, so I understand, to keep at the work of giving libraries while he is at Skibo, if his health permits, but he may let the majority of the requests remain until he returns to the United States next fall.

Mr. Carnegie appears especially anxious about the site for the new polytechnical school for Pittsburgh, and has asked me to keep him posted on all action taken by the city to secure the site.

"As was his intention, Mr. Carnegie sailed yesterday morning on the St. Louis for Southampton. He informed me that he intended to stay in Europe until November, when he again hoped to return to the United States. When he lands in New York, about the middle of November, as is his present intention, he will come again to Pittsburgh a few days after landing. He will then confer with the trustees of the institute and committee on plan and scope of the polytechnical school and hopes that work will have been started on the new school by that time.

CUBA READY FOR A CLEAN START

The Conditions at the Birth of the New Republic Better Than Ever Before.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—Secretary Root returned today from Havana, where he practically perfected arrangements with Governor General Wood and representatives of Cuba for the withdrawal of the United States troops.

"Cuba will be turned over to its inhabitants on May 20," the secretary said, "and the United States will thus have carried out the pledge it made before the war with Spain. I had not time to make the thorough inspection of Cuba which I should liked to have instituted, but what I saw showed that under American rule there has been continual improvement.

"Havana was clean when I visited it some months ago. It was clean when I was there last week. The sanitation of the city is excellent. The health reports show there is no yellow fever. The condition of the jails has improved. The schools are open and there is a large attendance. The hospitals are clean and neat and have competent medical staffs. The courts are in operation, administering prompt justice."

When asked if the Cubans were contented, the secretary replied:

"Apparently, they are. I had no opportunity to make a careful study of this point, but I am convinced that they are satisfied with the conditions which exist and are very greatly pleased with the conduct of the American government."

As far as known here there is no intention on the part of the United States to prefer large claims against Cuba.

SALARIES STIPULATED.

Provisions Made Yesterday for Proper Diplomatic Representation of This Country in Cuba.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—The first legislative step looking to the establishment of diplomatic relations between the United States and Cuba was taken today by the senate committee on foreign relations. A salary of $12,000, or $2,000 more than the president recommended, is provided for a minister to Cuba, and provision is made for three consulates instead of two, the addition being Manzanzas with a consul at $2,500 per annum.

The other two are Cienfugos and Santiago at $5,000 each. There is to be a consul-general at Havana with a salary of $5,000, also a secretary and an assistant secretary of legation at salaries of $2,000 and $1,500 respectively. Two thousand dollars also is allowed for rent of legation buildings.

Jewelry Firm in Bankrupt.

CHICAGO, April 30.—The wholesale jewelry firm of Moorers Evans, one of the largest in the west, was placed in the hands of a receiver today. Liabilities are $175,000; assets $100,000.

COMPROMISE WILL NOT BE AGREED TO REFORM COUNCILMEN WILL NOT SUBMIT TO DICTATION.

So Long as the Machine Men Insist on Proceeding Illegally the Majority Will Refuse to Abandon the Position They Have Taken.

All attempts to break the deadlock in city councils are festures up to date. The machine combine asserts that it will not give up its separate committees in select council. The reform element say they are standing strictly on the law, and that all legislation these separate committees attempts to put through will be illegal. The machine crowd say they base their position on the new charter act. The reform element says the act of 1808 which provides for joint standing committees is unrepealed and in full force.

The machine men while obstructing city business pretend to feel bad about it, and President John S. Lambie's grief over the situation of affairs is so poignant that he is willing to quit fighting if the reform element will concede that he shall designate where committees shall report and who shall be the chairmen. The reform element in common council will continue to enact legislation in the proper manner.

Will Not Be Dictated To.

President Charles S. Crawford of common council said yesterday that, speaking for himself, he would be glad to effect a compromise, but that certain committees had changed their rules, as they had a perfect right to do with reference to the branch to which they should report, and that these rules would stand. He said he would not agree to be dictated to by the machine. He further said: "The whole matter is absurd. Let the machine obey the law. We acted within our rights in sending public works committee to select council, and corporations and filtration to common council and there they will stay. We will not agree to any further change in the rules. We do not propose to allow a minority to run the business of councils. The reform element wants to expedite business, but we were not elected to council to be dictated to by the ring. We will go according to law and go long as the machine insists upon its separate committees in select council that long will city business be obstructed because we cannot legally enact legislation. There will be no compromise upon an illegal basis."

Dr. G. W. McNeil, chairman of corporations, will not agree to any further change in the rules, and says there will be no compromise. He said that if any further change occurred he would get off the committee.

Illegality Cannot Be Compromised.

Chairman W. H. Stevenson of the finance committee said the same thing. "All talk of any compromise that means dictation by the machine is foolishness," said Mr. Stevenson. "There is no talk of compromise so far as I know. We cannot compromise so long as the machine does business illegally."

R. H. Douglas, chairman of public works, said that for the sake of coaxing the machine to stop acting like children, he would be willing to have his committee report to common council, he himself retaining his position as chairman. He added, however, that as long as the machine sticks to its separate committees in select council, he is opposed to any talk of compromise as business could not be done legally when legislation was passed upon by these committees.

Thurston Alumnae Will Entertain.

The alumnae of the Thurston Preparatory school will present a play, "The Snowball," tomorrow evening for the benefit of the Omega Phi scholarship fund. The play will be given by a cast composed of several of the alumnae and a number of young men in the East End as follows: Felix Feathers'ma, Lee Marshall; Uncle John, Charles McVay; Harry Prendergast, Frederick Anderson; Saunders, Anson McVay; Mrs. Featherstone, Miss Margaret Marshall; Ethel Granger, Miss Irene Succop; Penelope, Miss Gertrude Heard.

After "The Snowball" will be preceded by a curtain raiser, a monologue, "When Jack Comes Home Late," in which Miss Ethel Pew will appear. The chairmen of committees having charge of the entertainment include: Miss Sara Morris, stage manager; Miss Lena Reineman, program; Miss Mary Kenney, decorations; Miss Lyda Vincent, refreshments; Miss Jennie Bradley, candy, and Miss Emma Cain, lemonade.

EAST END DEALS IN REAL ESTATE ARE MYSTIFYING

Properties Purchased at Fair Prices for Some Unknown Purpose.

CARNEGIE IS NOT IN IT

W. N. Frew Denies That the Philanthropist Intends to Buy Site for School—Other Guesses Connect Railroads With Investments.

Speculation as to who is making purchases of a large number of small properties in the Twenty-first ward was increased by the exclusive announcement in yesterday's Chronicle Telegraph that property valued at over $500,000 has been quietly secured within two weeks. The section in which the buying is said to have taken place extends from the Pennsylvania railroad tracks to Silver lake, and from Linden avenue to the Fifth avenue extension. Other purchases of properties near the Larimer avenue bridge are reported, but could not be confirmed.

Although four brokers are known to have been making offers in this neighborhood since April 15, most of the purchases have been made by a leading real estate firm of the East End. When asked whom they were dealing for, these brokers replied that they did not know who the real purchasers were.

List of Properties Purchased.

Among the properties known to have been purchased are the following: Nos. 815-817 Linden avenue, owned by W. E. Galston; No. 823 Linden avenue, owned by Samuel McCaslin; Nos. 6741 Frankstown avenue and 6739 Frankstown avenue; the Burns, Sample and Singer properties in North Linden avenue, between Frankstown avenue and Silver lake; three brick houses in the south side of Frankstown avenue, near Linden avenue, owned by Mrs. Sadie F. Rodgers, and two brick houses adjoining, owned by Mrs. Mary Miller; John W. Becker's property in Hamilton avenue; the Miller property in Lyric street; E. G. Hagie's property in Saxon street; the W. H. Roberts property in Tennis street, and "Calico Row," consisting of 11 houses in the same street.

Other properties which are reported to have been bought are the Becket brickyard and the Sadler, Martin and Evans frontage in Hamilton avenue, the McGillick flats in Linden avenue, and, in fact, every property in the west side of Linden avenue, between Hamilton avenue and Silver lake, with three exceptions. Rumors of purchases in the east side of Linden avenue could not be confirmed. It is said that no effort has been made to purchase property west of Fifth avenue. A deal is now on for the Lydia Finley property, a large plot of vacant frontage at the corner of Frankstown avenue and Fifth avenue.

Most of the Property Improved.

Vacant frontage in Linden avenue is $60 and $75 a foot. Most of the property along that thoroughfare, however, is improved with new brick and frame houses, which bring the value of a 30-foot lot up from $4,000 to $6,000. In a number of cases more than that has been paid. Every property owner who was approached seemed satisfied with the price received. Most of the deals were direct sales, a cash bonus of $100 or more being deposited when the offer was accepted. A few five-day options are said to have been secured for a consideration of $100 or more, and later extended to 15 days for a like sum. In every case the owner was given to April 1, 1903, to vacate, but the purchasers take possession of the property at once.

The former owners are making guesses as to who the purchasers are and the purposes for which the properties are wanted. The first is that the property is being acquired for the Carnegie polytechnic school; second, that the Pennsylvania railroad is buying it to build a connecting link between the main line and the Allegheny Valley railroad, and, third, that the Wabash is after the property for eastern entrance to the city.

Rumors Are Not Confirmed.

The Pennsylvania rumor does not appear feasible because of grades which engineers say could hardly be overcome. It is known, however, that the Pennsylvania railroad is after more track room in the East End. The Wabash rumor is not credited by very many, as that road has shown no disposition so far to buy in the East End. Another story circulated yesterday was that E. B. Moreland, proprietor of the Brace Bros. laundry, is the purchaser. Mr. Moreland denied this. W. E. Hamnett, his agent, admitted two purchases, both in Linden avenue, in which $11,000 was invested.

When apprised of the rumor that residence properties in the East End district were being purchased for Mr. Carnegie, presumably as a site for the proposed new polytechnical school, President William N. Frew, of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute and a member of the committee of plan and scope for the new polytechnic school, denied that there was any truth in the report.

"I do not know how that rumor started," said Mr. Frew. "When in New York yesterday I had a talk with Mr. Carnegie on that very subject. I told him that nearly every time a large plot of property changed hands in Pittsburgh he was the accredited purchaser and that the purchase was in almost every case being made as a site for the new polytechnic school.

Mr. Carnegie Will Not Buy Sites.

"Mr. Carnegie has told me that he will not purchase a site for the new school, and he always says just what he means. He will build and equip the school thoroughly, but the city must furnish the site.

"Mr. Carnegie told me only yesterday that he would like to have the city secure the site as soon as possible as he is anxious to see a start made on the new school. But he added that he is very patient and will await the city's action in the matter.

"While Mr. Carnegie favors the site he has personally selected in Forbes street, near the institute, he is not averse to having the school built in any other section if the city deems the site he has chosen too small."

When asked if he thought Mr. Carnegie was buying land in the East End for a site for the school buildings of the Western University of Pennsylvania, Mr. Frew said that he did not know, but it was his opinion that Mr. Carnegie was in no manner interested in any purchase in the East End.

Divorce for Mrs. Perry Tiffany.

NEW YORK, April 30.—(Special.)—Persistent reports that Mrs. Marie Havemeyer Tiffany was suing her husband, Perry Tiffany, for divorce were emphatically denied until today, when it became known that Judge Smith of the supreme court, sitting in Riverhead, L. I., had signed a decree in her favor. Mrs. Tiffany named as co-respondent a young woman unknown in her husband's social set. Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Tiffany sailed for Europe last week. She obtained the custody of her two children, Marion and Theodore.

SOCIETY

OF MORE than usual interest was the wedding of Miss Nellie Torrance, daughter of David R. Torrance, and Lieut. Franklin R. Kenney, U. S. A., which took place last evening. The marriage was solemnized at the home of Mr. Torrance in Baum street, East End, at 7:30 o'clock, the Rev. Robert J. Coster, rector of Grace Protestant Episcopal church and principal of the Bishop Bowman institute, performing the ceremony. It was a very pretty wedding, and the presence of the bridegroom and his best man in full military uniform added a novelty to the occasion.

The bride was attended by her younger sister, Miss Alice Torrance, as maid of honor and by Miss Edna Bown and Miss Albertina Junker as bridesmaids. She was given away by her father. Lieut. Allen Maybah of Fort Terry was the best man and the two ushers were brothers of the bride, Robert Torrance and Oscar Torrance. The bride wore an exquisite wedding gown composed of white mousseline de soie trimmed upon the skirt and bodice with point lace. She wore no veil and carried a shower bouquet of white brides roses and illies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a white lace gown over green silk and her flowers were rich American Beauty roses. The bridesmaids were similarly gowned in white batiste over green silk slips and carried large bouquets of maiden-hair ferns.

The decorations were exceedingly pretty. In the parlors palms were massed at one end of the room, mantels were banked with maiden-hair ferns and small foliage plants, and the flowers were white brides roses. In the library were palms and ferns and clusters of pink roses, pink being the color of the flowers throughout the other apartments with the exception of the dining room, where the bridal table stood. A centerpiece of illies of the valley and maiden-hair ferns had long ribbons reaching out over the table, to which were tied clusters of flowers and ferns. The candles were covered with pretty green and white shades.

After the wedding supper Lieut. Kenney and his bride went east and will spend 10 days sightseeing before going to Fort Terry, on Long Island, where Lieut. Kenney is stationed as a member of the heavy artillery corps. Lieut. Kenney was with the Tenth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, during its campaign in the Philippines. When it was mustered out after its return he enlisted in the regular army and was assigned to the artillery corps.

BISSELL BLOCK AND ADJOINING LOTS ARE SOLD

Were Secured by Charles Donnelly and F. F. Nicola for $520,000.

$65,000 SIXTH STREET DEAL

B. & O. Invests $32,000 at Glenwood, and Eleventh Ward Property Goes for $28,500—Offer for Second Presbyterian Church.

George T. Oliver has sold to Charles Donnelly and F. F. Nicola the Bissell block, on the northeast corner of Seventh avenue and Smithfield street, and the two lots adjoining it on the north for $520,000. The Bissell block fronts 99 feet in Smithfield street and 120 feet in Seventh avenue and the two lots adjoining have a frontage of 40 feet, making the total frontage in Smithfield street 139 feet. Mr. Oliver purchased the above property last December from the Bissell heirs and Miss Mary Laughlin for $500,500. In part payment for the above properties Mr. Oliver purchased from Messrs. Donnelly & Nicola the four-story brick building and lot at No. 111 Smithfield street, fronting 20 feet and having a depth of 78 feet, with a width in the rear of 40 feet. He also acquired the Maple Heights residence property, in the Twenty-second ward, extending 374 feet in the Maple Heights road, immediately adjoining Mr. Oliver's residence, together with a lot having 60 feet front in Dunmoyle avenue and extending back to Maple Heights road. The consideration for the two properties was $402,000. The sale was made by direct negotiation between the parties and without the intervention of any agents.

Bought to Be Sure of Light.

Henry Phipps has added to his holdings in Sixth street by the purchase of the property at No. 116 for a price approximating $65,000. The former owner was Anton Lutz of the D. Lutz & Sons Brewing Company, and the deal was negotiated by Harry B. Naylor, who is acting as Mr. Phipps' representative in building and real estate in this city. The lot has a frontage of 20 feet in the west side of Sixth street and a depth of 110 feet. The three-story brick block on the lot is now occupied by the saloon of John Huckenstein, formerly president of the Liquor league. The purchase by Mr. Phipps occasioned considerable surprise, as it was announced last week that Mr. Lutz had plans prepared by Architect Joseph Stillburg for a six-story "stag" hotel which he would erect this summer. Mr. Phipps' object in securing the property was to be assured of plenty of light for his 10-story business block which is going up this summer on the adjoining lots and will extend from the Lutz property to the corner of Duquesne way. No immediate changes are contemplated in the property bought yesterday, and the work of erecting the Phipps buildings will proceed as fast as material can be secured.

More Room for Shops.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has made another purchase at Glenwood, the consideration in this case being $32,000. The property bought consists of a lot, 192x145 feet, in the north side of Lytle street, near Allegheny street, which was secured from S. Miller. It is improved with frame and brick houses. Title to the property was made out to the Schuylkill Land Improvement Company of Philadelphia, which is understood to represent the Baltimore & Ohio in its real estate transactions in this city. The Miller lot is near the Sloan property and adjoins property already owned by the Baltimore & Ohio. It will be used for track extension and an addition to the car shops.

R. M. Reynolds and G. Gordon Smith have sold to J. J. Dowling five properties in the Eleventh ward for $28,500. The deal was negotiated by the Gordon-Smith Company through Weeks & Co. The property measures 104x74 feet at the northeast corner of Vine and Wylie avenues, and has erected on it five brick houses, one of 10 rooms, one of 7 and three of 6 rooms. The purchase is the largest deal noted in this locality for some time and was made for an investment.

Editor Makes a Sale.

Through the agency of S. H. Lloyd Thomas D. Harman, proprietor of the National Stockman and Farmer, has disposed of his residence in the south side of Marchand street, Twentieth ward, for $13,000. The lot is 55x140 feet, and the residence thereon is a 10-room brick house provided with all the modern improvements. The purchaser is a business man of the East End, who will occupy the property as a home.

The Real Estate Trust Company has sold for J. Walker Hay to Attorney Frank S. Hill of New Castle six lots in Mr. Hay's Walton plan in that city for about $7,000. The lots are 50x140 feet each, and face in Highland, Wellington and Delaware avenues. The purchaser has plans prepared for six modern brick houses which he will build this summer at a cost of $3,000 each, making the total investment about $25,000. This plan of lots is already being built up rapidly with good residences.

Through the agency of A. D. Wilson of Allegheny J. F. Haworth of the wholesale grocery firm of Haworth & Dewhurst has sold to Yenta Leiber and Nellie Rosenfield a Seventh ward property for $9,000. The lot measures 52x80 feet in the south side of Webster avenue, near Elm street, and is improved with an eight-room brick house.

Signs of Activity in Dirt Deals.

Offers for city property are becoming more frequent the last few days, showing that the real estate market is easing up rapidly and giving promise of sales of considerable magnitude, which may be closed in the near future. The best offer reported this week is of $265,000, for the property of the Second Presbyterian church, at the corner of Penn avenue and Seventh street. It is not likely that the offer will be accepted as the congregation is said to have fixed upon a figure considerably in excess of that quoted. Another good offer was made for Penn avenue property, between Sixth and Ninth streets, and if accepted by the owners in the east, to whom it was wired yesterday, the deal may be closed today. In Wilkinsburg a new high water mark has been set for Wood street property, by the offer of $750 a front foot for the residence of Dr. J. E. Reed in "Doctors' Row," adjoining the proposed Vilsack building. The highest offer for Wood street lots heretofore on file had been $600 a foot, and the Vilsack lot, at the corner of Wood and Ross streets, was bought for $312 a foot. Conservative property owners in Wilkinsburg predict that within two years Wood street property will sell readily at $1,000 a front foot.

$16,000 Is Paid for a Farm.

The improvements consist of a seven-room frame dwelling and large frame barn.

The Real Estate Trust Company has sold for Kirk Q. Bigham to Kim E. H. Jennings a plot of ground, 50x100 feet, on Sheffield street and Schenley avenue, Oakland, for $30,000. The deal was negotiated by the Land...

HORSES IN DEMAND.

Opening of a Three Days' Sale in the East End Attracted Large Throng.

The crowd at the opening sale of trotters, pacers, coach horses, saddlers, cobs and draft horses at the East Liberty stock yards yesterday afternoon was the largest that ever attended a horse sale in Pittsburgh. The sale was continued last night under a brilliantly illuminated tent and another large crowd was in attendance.

There were almost 500 persons present yesterday afternoon and a number of women were in the crowd. Over 200 horses of almost all descriptions are on sale. There are two carloads of fancy Kentucky saddle horses in the lot, many of which were sold before coming to Pittsburgh.

Admirers of equine flesh made the bidding spirited and sales were numerous. Over 25 horses were sold at the first sale yesterday afternoon.

The prices paid were in some cases astonishing. Common and very ordinary horses brought from $125 to $175, and one team of poorly-matched nags brought over $500. None of the saddle horses has yet been placed on sale. They are said to be the highest-priced horses in the lot and are quoted at from $300 to $2,500.

WORKERS WILL CONFER.

Active Laborers in the Mission Field Will Exchange Ideas.

Beginning this afternoon a conference of Christian workers of the two cities will be held in the Wylie avenue church for "prayer, fellowship and the furtherance of the gospel." This conference will bring together many of the lay-workers in the downtown missions as well as ministers who are interested in outdoor mission work and the spread of the gospel in other lines. The idea is to revise the methods of lay-work in the slum district.

Among the lay-workers will be Col. C. C. Herron of the Volunteers of America, W. W. Philips of the Liberty street mission, Maurice Ruben, Miss Brown, secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association; Miss J. Kincaid of the Soho mission, E. D. Whitesides of the Christian and Missionary Alliance and Col. Baker of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Among the clergymen who will take part are the Revs. Dr. S. Edward Young, E. R. Donehoo, J. W. Cleland and E. M. Sandys.

The Beauty of the Nation's Capital

In springtime and its consequent attractiveness are brought within the easy reach of all by the last special excursion to be run by the Pennsylvania railroad on the 15th of May, leaving Union station, Pittsburgh, at 8 a. m., with through parlor cars and coaches. RAIL SCARCITY BLOCKING SOME IMPORTANT WORK

STEEL BUYING VERY LIGHT

Failure of Furnaces to Meet Specifications Forces Steel Mills to Run Short—Steel Corporation to Add 1,000,000 Tons to Furnace Output.

The existing strength in the iron and steel markets is practically assured for continuance during next year. Buyers are looking forward to this and are busy arranging for their supplies after the end of the year. Producers are not anxious to sell in the new year.

Interests that require an immediate supply of rails are in a quandary. One or two of the leading rail producers will have room for new business in rails in November, but meantime there are scarcely any available except where some railroad purchaser may be getting deliveries above requirements and turning the surplus over to a broker, contrary to the contract plan of the so-called rail pool.

For immediate delivery old rails for relaying are worth more than the existing price of new standard sections, which is $28 at the mills. Within the past week a New York broker in old material purchased the rails of the Erie railroad, good for relaying.

Bought at $27.50 the Ton.

The amount is about 10,000 tons and the purchase price was $27 50 the ton f. o. b., where they are taken up. These rails have been offered for sale at $32 the ton, but the prospective Pittsburgh buyers demurred at this price, as entirely too high a premium over the price at which new rails are being shipped.

This scarcity of rails for prompt shipment is delaying a terminal railroad development of important bearing in Pittsburgh. The contractors who are building the road have the roadbed nearly ready for a stretch of 12 miles, but they failed to place their order for rails in time and now they cannot get them.

There has been scarcely a change in prices throughout the entire scope of the iron and steel production in the past week. Buying has been comparatively light.

The aggressive bull elements are resting on their oars and there is little fear that prices will be forced to a point that will bring about a reaction. On this account the present high prices are practically assured for next year.

No Furnace Labor Trouble.

Uninterrupted operation for another month is promised for the blast furnace interests from the fact that the labor leaders who have organized the blast furnace workers have urged that no radical step be taken at this time. The purpose of this organization is to establish an eight-hour day for the men, who now work 12. Their proposition may come to an issue the first of next month.

The United States Steel Corporation in its planned improvements, which, in the main, are projected for the Pittsburgh district, is figuring to bring its pig iron production up to its present consumption. At the same time the plans of the corporation for additional steel and finishing mills will probably still leave it as an important buyer of iron from the merchant producers.

The corporation is planning to add to its annual production of pig iron about 1,000,000 tons, the amount, approximately, which it purchased from merchant furnaces in the present year.

New Corporation Furnaces.

Two large new furnaces are to be added to the group of the Carnegie Steel Company at Bessemer. It is likely that another stack will be erected at Youngstown, O., and work is already under way for one at New Castle and another at Sharon.

The merchant bar steel mills have business ahead which, if specifications were crowded, would engage them till the end of the year. However, much of this business on long term contracts will run in deliveries till July of next year, and meantime there is room for new business. Plate mills have business ahead for from two to five and six months. On present business the structural mills will be crowded for six and seven months.

Within the past week the contractors for the extensions to the works of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company contracted for 9,000 tons of structural steel with the Carnegie Steel Company. It will be several months before this can be produced. Numbers of the industrial concerns of the Pittsburgh district wanting structural material for new works, have indefinitely deferred their improvements, because they cannot get the structural material in any satisfactory time.

Steel Mills Running Short.

The furnaces are having difficulty to keep up to specifications for deliveries on old contracts. As a result many of the steel mills dependent on this supply are running much short of their capacity.

The now-satisfactory car service has established firmly the lower prices for coke. These are $2 25 for furnace and 25 cents the ton higher for foundry.

Pig iron of all grades is scarce for delivery at any time before the end of the year. Sales made in the past seven days were 7 lts, importance and for delivery scattered, in the main through the last half of the year.

About 5,000 tons of Bessemer pig iron was sold for delivery in this and next month, and the last two quarters of the year. The prompt iron was sold at $20 the ton, third quarter, $19 50 and last quarter at $19. These are the prices at the valley furnaces.

Forge Iron Sales.

Forge iron, amounting to 2,000 tons was sold for deliveries, running from this month to the end of the year. The price is now firm at $19 75, till the end of the year.

Foundry iron, amounting to 1,000 tons, was sold at $21 50, Pittsburgh, for delivery in the last half of the year. This was the No. 2 grade. Prompt No. 2 foundry is worth at least $22.

In heavy steel, no transactions are reported. The price nominally is $32, Pittsburgh, for Bessemer billets, and $35 for basic open hearth billets.

Domestic ferro manganese is being held at $52 50, the ton, with the foreign product offered, delivered in Pittsburgh, at $48.

The demand for steel rods is again active. About 5,000 tons were sold here in the past week. The price was from $36 50 to $37 the ton.

Prices on merchant rails at the mills are unchanged and there is understood to be some available for production in the last two months of the year.

Prices on New Rails.

Prices are: For 200-ton and larger lots in standard sections, $28 a ton; $30 for carlots and $32 for less than carlots; $35 for rails of 30, 40 and 45 pounds to the yard; $36, 25-pound; $37, 20-pound; $38, 16-pound, and $40 for 12-pound. Girder rails and T rails for traction use are selling at about $38 a ton at mills.

Common bar iron producers are holding to the advanced price of $1 80 the 100 pounds.

There continues an active demand for muck bar at $32 the ton.

The Pittsburgh steel bar producers sold about 7,000 tons in the past week. The price remains at $1 60 the 100 pounds for Bessemer bars and $2 the ton higher on open hearth.

Structural material sales by Pittsburgh producers, in the past week, ran up to 15,000 tons. Prices are: $1 60 for 100 pounds on beams, channels, angles and zees; tees, $1 65 per 100 pounds; beams, from 13 to 24 inches, $1 50 for 100 pounds.

Steel Plate Purchases.

Consumers of steel plates bought from the Pittsburgh producers fully 12,000 tons in the week past. Prices are: Tank plates, $1 60 for 100 pounds for plates up to 100 inches in width, and 5c extra 100 pounds for wide sizes; flange plates, $1 70 for 100 pounds; stillbottom steel, $1 90 for 100 pounds; locomotive firebox, not less than ½ higher; 2-10-inch plates, $1 a ton extra, gauged Nos. 8 and 9, $2 a ton extra; circles, $1 80 for 100 pounds.

The demand for skelp continues active. Prices are held at from $1 90 to $1 95 the 100 pounds for iron skelp and from $1 80 to $1 85 for steel skelp.

Only special grades of sheets are demanding any premiums. The mills have room for prompt new business, although contracts extend over six months. Black sheets range from $3 10 the 100 pounds on No. 28 gauge. Galvanized sheet prices are equivalent to discounts of 70 and 5 and 70 and 10 per cent on the old lists.

Prompt Tin Plate Available.

While the tin plate mills have contracts running till near the end of the year, which engage most of the output, there is room for additional new business at any time. The price of $4 the 100-pound box continues.

Steel hoops are selling at $1 90 the 100 pounds.

The cold-rolled shafting trade continues active with the higher prices of discounts, ranging from 50 to 55 per cent, according to importance of the order, obtaining. The higher price is for less than car lots.

Prices in finer lines of merchant and crucible cast steel remain as follows: Tire steel, $1 80 for 100 pounds; toe calk, $2 25; spring steel, $2 25; plow slabs, $2 25, rolled lay steel, $2 50 to $2 75; tool steel, $7 and upward, according to quality.

The demand for old material is heavy by reason of the pig iron shortage. Higher prices are being brought out. Present prices are: Heavy steel melting stock, $18 50 to $19 a ton; heavy cast scrap, $17 to $17 50; No. 1 wrought scrap, $20 to $21; borings, $11 to $11 50; turnings, $14 to $15; steel rails, $19; iron rails, $24.

Hardware prices are as follows: Carlots and large amounts of wire nails to jobbers, $2 05 a keg; $2 10 in less lots and $2 20 out of stock to retailers; No. 9 plain wire $2 05 for 100 pounds to jobbers; $2 10 in carlots; $2 20 in less than car lots; No. 9 galvanized wire, $2 50 in car lots to jobbers and $2 60 in lesser lots; cut nails are $2 05 in car lots and $2 in heavy orders to jobbers; steel horseshoes are $2 25 for 100-pound kegs and iron $3 60; carriage bolts, 60 and 10 and 5 per cent off to jobbers; machine bolts, 65 and 10 and 2½ per cent off list.

Discounts on steel and wrought iron pipe in carload lots to consumers are as follows:

BLAST FURNACE LABOR TROUBLES ARE ENDED

Proposed Change to Three Eight-Hour Shifts Abandoned for the Present at Least.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 30.—The Iron Age in its issue tomorrow will say:

The pig iron market has been quiet during the past week simply because there is nothing offering, business being confined to covering urgent necessities. Buyers, apparently, have made up their minds to await developments on the question of supplies for distant deliveries and rely upon the assurances made that the production will be ample. So far as the next 60 days are concerned, there is little chance of any change in the prevailing scarcity.

The threatened trouble with blast furnace labor in the central west over a proposed change to three eight-hour shifts seems averted for the present, but the issue may come up on June 1. So far as the transportation of ore and fuel is concerned all troubles are now pretty well over.

The famine in steel continues and high prices are being occasionally paid for moderate lots. Some business has been done in sheet bars for the Pittsburgh district. From Chicago comes the report of negotiations for round lots of foreign steel coupled with advices that the foreign steel works show a disposition to meet the views of buyers here by naming lower prices. The figures quoted are certainly under any which have recently reached this side.

Consumers of structural material have been finally forced to turn to the foreign markets for a supply. During the week a Chicago firm has closed for 3,000 tons of foreign beams and a New York architectural shop has placed an order for 4,000 tons. While the nominal association prices on beams and angles would not permit of importations, the actual prices at which structural material is selling for prompt delivery do leave a profit in spite of difficulties as to sections, etc.

Consumption in all branches of finished iron and steel continues exceedingly heavy, and there is no evidence that the present range of values is curtailing it. In the west there have been round sales of cast iron pipe, and several large contracts for steel pipe lines have also been placed. Bar mills have been taking additional orders and the plate mills are crowded with work.

As indicating the situation in the steel rail trade, we may note that one mill was forced to decline an order for 10,000 tons on which delivery was to begin as late as December. Of course the fact that the Scranton mill is being moved to Buffalo has left a serious gap in the production.

Some round sales of steel rails have been made by German mills in the Canadian market, which we cannot report. A report in current of a sale of a 2,500-ton lot of foreign rails for this country.

Some large transactions have taken place in old steel rails in the west, and more are pending. Importations, it appears, cannot be put through because buyers and sellers are too far apart.

W. B. Neal and Other Plaintiffs File Bill in Equity Against the Teel Mining Company — Allege Sale Was Made Unknown to Them.

A bill in equity was filed yesterday in common pleas court No. 2 by Attorney George R. Wallace for William B. Neal, George D. Prentice and J. Alexander Hardy against the Teel Mining Company, George L. Walter, H. V. Curll and E. N. Dunlap. A receiver is asked for the mining company. This company was organized under the laws of West Virginia. Orland C. Reed was the promoter. The concern purchased land in Jasper county, Missouri.

It is stated that, owing to the fact that some of the purchasers of stock, including Walter, paid for their interests with promissory notes, Reed was unable to pay in cash the full purchase price of the land, and he executed a deed of trust to Thomas Hackney, the notes accompanying the same, whereupon the purchase money was paid. Reed has since died and the dates of these transactions are unknown to the plaintiffs, because Walter, as president, has been conducting the affairs of the company.

It is said that after the payments were made, Walter, instead of having the deed of trust satisfied of record, had it assigned to his Pittsburgh attorney, as well as the claim of Mary H. Teel, for the balance of purchase money.

These assignments, it is declared were made without the knowledge of the plaintiffs as stockholders and the board of directors. It is declared several test-holes were drilled and the result not being satisfactory operations were ceased. In the Jasper county court, it is alleged the Pittsburgh attorney brought actions for the unpaid purchase money, whereupon no defense was made and a sheriff's sale of the property was bought in by him and conveyed to Walter.

It is charged the officers of the company had no knowledge of the proceedings at the time, but when it was discovered action was taken to recover the property. While this was pending, it is said, the stockholders held a meeting on March 19 last, when it was developed that Walter, in the meantime, had purchased the stock of John W. Ely, so that the remaining petitioners mentioned no longer constituted a majority of the stockholders.

It is alleged that Walter, with the other parties named, have secured the controlling interest of the company and have taken action which will strip the company of all of its assets. It is claimed Walter's actions were fraudulent. Aside from asking for a receiver other relief is asked.

INDICTED FOR MURDER.

Grand Jury Holds Three Persons for the Death of Thomas Layton. Other Bills.

The grand jury yesterday returned a true bill against William J. Byers, John McWilliams and Nellie McWilliams for the murder of Thomas Layton on May 11 last. Byers was arrested a short time ago in Cleveland on information by Gertie Culp, a former resident of Turtle Creek, and, it is said, a one-time sweetheart of Byers. It is alleged that Layton was killed by Byers at the command of Mrs. McWilliams, then Layton's wife. Byers was a boarder at the Layton home, and, it is alleged, became intimate with Mrs. Layton, and, wishing to rid themselves of Layton, they planned to kill him. Since then Mrs. Layton married McWilliams.

The following other bills were returned:

True bills—Misdemeanor, Harry Anderson, Bennie Kline, Adam Long; false pretense, S. Battaglia, Louis Zinsser; illegal liquor selling, Abner Burrill (2); embezzlement, John Frank Dixon, Ogden McElwain, Morris Werthelmer; larceny, Philip Riemann, Dominick Rossea, George Reed et al., Mary Steab (2), Mattie Wood, Thomas Wheeler; larceny from the person, Thomas Moore; assault and battery, Jack Harris, Adam Long, York Wyatt and John Magee; aggravated assault and battery, James Holliday, Kate Harrington, Tim Scanlon; felonious assault and battery, Louis Gosock, Gragram Michasingo (2), John Magee and York Wyatt.

Ignored bills—Violating election laws, Theodore Hundmann; forging and uttering forged and false tax receipts, W. J. Foster; aiding fraudulent voting, Theodore Heinamann; malicious mischief, Daniel Nelson; assault and battery, John W. Smith.

BROKERS TAKE A HAND.

New York Depositions Figure in Suit to Recover for Northern Pacific Losses.

In common pleas court No. 1 the depositions of New York newspaper stock reporters and Wall street brokers were filed in the case of L. R. Bacon & Co. against Charles Bickel. It is an action to recover a large sum of money, alleged to be owing the plaintiffs on stock of the Northern Pacific Railway Company which Bickel sold short when the panic struck the market on May 9, 1901, and raised the stock from $110 to $1,000 per share.

The depositions were to show the jurors how such things happen and to support the allegations of Bickel that his brokers could have sold his stock at a profit instead of a loss. The shorts were sold at $150 a share and Bickel contends that his brokers should have known that he wished to settle with the shorts at $150 per share rather than at an advanced price and thus making him a heavy loser.

REFUSES TO PAY POLICY.

Central Accident Insurance Co. Files Unusual Answer to Suit of Mrs. Maggie Sanders.

An unusual defense is made by the Central Accident Insurance Company in its answer to the suit of Mrs. Maggie Sanders to recover $5,000 on an insurance policy issued to her husband, Gustave E. Sanders. The latter was murdered in his pool room in Diamond street last spring.

It was declared that in the application made by Sanders he was described as a "billiard room proprietor," while in truth he was a "gambler and the conductor and manager of a gambling house," which fact, if it had been truthfully reported in the application, would have caused it to be refused.

It is alleged Sanders' death was caused by difficulties arising directly out of his occupation as a gambler and that the policy does not protect the holder against any injury by himself or other persons.

Inheritance Not Limited.

In orphans' court, in an old case, relating to the estate of Andrew Morton, who died in 1807, Judge Hawkins decided that Francis J. Longdon, Jr., is entitled to the share of his deceased wife, who was a great-granddaughter of Morton. Opposition to Longdon's claim had been made on the ground that Morton's will referred to grandchildren but not to great-grandchildren as the beneficiaries of a trust fund. Judge Hawkins did not think this reference worked a limitation on the lineal inheritance.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE, 5th Ave.

It looks like gold, so like it that its other name is "Fool's Gold."

Not one test given gold, though, will iron pyrites stand.

Much the same way with other malt extracts.

They resemble Johann Hoff's. Look like it, but there is one difference—a great difference—none of them will do what Johann Hoff's will.

One dozen bottles of the genuine

JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT

give as much strength and nourishment as a cask of ale, without being intoxicating.

Insist on JOHANN HOFF'S or you will be imposed upon. No other is "just as good."

The Cardinals Caused Heart-Throbbing in the Ninth Inning

CARELESS WORK CAUSED A SCARE IN THE NINTH

Cardinals Looked Easy, but They Made a Strong Finish.

DONOVAN TRIED HARD

His Hit for a Homer in the Ninth Was Captured by Lefty Davis. Contest Was Poorly Played by Both Teams.

PATSY DONOVAN.
Who Made a Noble Effort to Win the Game.

The Cardinal, after a hard run, got just close enough to touch the ball, and the bleachers applauded him for his effort.

Wid Conroy got a chance to show himself in the preliminary practice work, doing some stunts about third base. He made some neat pick-ups, but had trouble in locating first base, which was strange, as he is a very accurate thrower.

In the third inning Manager Clarke hit a hot one down the left foul line and started hotfoot for first, but Umpire Emslie called the ball fair, and Manager Fred was angry and said something that resembled a swear word. The umpire was correct, however, as the ball was foul by just a shade.

As was anticipated in this column yesterday morning, the champions were compelled to appear for their game with the Cardinals clad in their traveling uniforms of gray. The white home uniforms were so badly shrunken in the wash that it was impossible for the players to get them on. The players will have to use the gray uniforms until new white ones are made, and this may cause spectators some trouble, as both teams will be dressed alike. There is a league custom, but no law, for teams to wear white uniforms on the home grounds.

It Looked Like an Easy Cinch.

The whole thing looked like such a cinch for Happy Jack that he became somewhat careless, and that carelessness came pretty close to costing him the game. Up until the ninth inning the best the Cardinal batters could do was three hits, two singles and a three-bagger, which had netted two runs, and the crowd was wondering how in the world the Cardinals ever succeeded in getting just one run over the plate. Then it was that the ballpen went up, and before Lefty Davis could get hold of the guy rope and pull it down there was all sorts of trouble.

The first man up in the ninth was Kruger, not Oom Paul, but a namesake, and he went out from Leach to Bransfield as slick as a whistle. "Scratch" Hartman, the pride of McKeesport, did a patience act and was rewarded with a base on balls. Ryan followed with a single. Nicholls, the next batter, put Hartman against an inshoot and walked him, filling the bases. At that stage of the game Childs, who had been showing a slight sprag fever, got a move on, and the rooters and the coachers yelled themselves blue in the face.

According to the regular order of things Yerkes, the elongated pitcher, who had been an easy victim on three previous occasions, should have come to bat, but Donovan shifted the deal and sent up a youngster named Brashear to try his hand. The youngster's try was successful, as he placed a pretty single in left field and two runners crossed the plate. It was now up to Patsy, and the ex-Pirate wanted to get given for a handsome bunch of goodies presented to him at the start of the game. Patsy waited and waits for a strike to be called on him, but this time he cut that out, and as the first pitched ball was over the pan he swung hard and started it on a line for the right field fence. It looked like a home run hit and a tie score, but Lefty Davis, who is fleet of foot, chased himself under the flying sphere, pulled it down and the game was over, but is was a very close call.

It Was a Very Loose Game.

The game as a whole was not what might be called a brilliant display of baseball, because there were frequent stages of wobbliness on both sides. Honus Wagner was the Pirates' offender to the extent of a pair of juicy errors, on balls that looked easy enough for a schoolboy to cat up. The Cardinals were nearly all at sea and there were some displays that would bring a blush of shame to the cheeks of an amateur. Yerkes, who gave the Pirates some trouble in the opening game of the season at St. Louis, was in the box yesterday, and his delivery was peaches and cream for the champions, who piled up hits and runs almost when they pleased. Chesbro pitched a listless game up until the ninth inning, when he grew a bit careless and had his troubles for so doing. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The infielders could hardly be blamed for making errors yesterday, as the field was both hard and very rough.

Reader wants to know if the Miller who is playing left field for Chicago is "Dusty," who formerly with the Cincinnati team.

It was not the same player.

Ritchey's fumble in the second inning was a monkey affair that the Carnegie boy should have and wanted his old college battery mate, Leach, to hit him a lick.

Yerkes pitched for the Cardinals, has a delivery motion which Honus Wagner says is on a par with the first baseman of the Pirates by a very [illegible] margin.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, O., April 30.—At the conclusion of a conference of the American league magnates, behind closed doors, at the Hollenden hotel today President Ban Johnson stated that it had been decided to fight the injunction cases against Lajoie, Fraser and Bernhard to the end. The perpetual injunctions granted by the common pleas court in Philadelphia against these players will also be carried to the Pennsylvania supreme court. Mr. Johnson stated that new evidence would be introduced when the cases were reopened before the supreme court, which the attorneys for the American league believed would result in a reversal of the court's former decision.

Mr. Johnson added that it would obviously not be good policy to discuss the new evidence, but he declared that the American league would assume the aggressive and give the National league all the litigation it cared for.

The following magnates were at the meeting: Benjamin F. Shibe, Philadelphia; Harry Goldman, Baltimore; John E. Bruce, St. Louis; C. A. Comiskey, Chicago; S. F. Angus and James McNama, Detroit; Fred Postal, Washington; H. J. Killilea, Boston, and Messrs. Kilfoyle and Somers, Cleveland.

THE ST. LOUIS JUMPERS.

Their Case Is Still in the Hands of the Court.

ST. LOUIS, MO., April 30.—Opposing counsel appeared in the circuit court today and filed briefs of their arguments yesterday before Judges Taky and Fisher on the petition of President Robison of the St. Louis National league baseball club for an injunction to restrain Heidrick, Harper and Wallace from playing with the local American league team. The case was taken under advisement and it was intimated that a decision might be made tomorrow.

WON IN THE NINTH.

High School and East Liberty Teams Put Up a Very Exciting Contest.

In a hotly-contested, long-drawn-out game of baseball, full of kicks and disputes, High school defeated East Liberty Academy by a score of 12 to 11 at Friendship park, yesterday afternoon. High School took the lead from the start and at the end of the fifth the score stood 9 to 2. East Liberty then began to score runs, 2 in the sixth, 4 in the seventh and tied the score in the eighth, while High School was blanked. In the eighth on a base on balls, a two-bagger by Kennoy and a neat sacrifice by Smith, High School scored two and the game looked sure. But in the ninth by two hits and two errors in succession E. L. A. tied the score at 11 to 11. In High School's half of the ninth, amid the wild shouts of its adherents, Spuhler came in with the winning run. He drew his base on balls, Gardner hit safely, Patterson was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Two were already down, but Youngson came to bat and amid the exhortations of the High School rooters he laced the ball over second and the needed run crossed the plate.

The work of the two teams was very even. Gardner pitched a steady game, but did not receive the support accorded Mueller and Burns. The work of Kennoy, Patterson, E. Hull, Zahniser and Burns deserves special mention. High School will play the Central High School at Cleveland, O., next Saturday, and Shadyside next Wednesday. The score:

British Tennis Experts Are After That Cup.

BOSTON, MASS., April 30.—It was announced today by Secretary Palmer E. Presbrey of the United States National Lawn Tennis association that a challenge had been received by cable from Secretary Newburn of the English Lawn Tennis association on behalf of Great Britain for an international contest for the Davis challenge trophy. Messrs. Whitman, Davis and Ward successfully defended the trophy in August, 1900, against Messrs. Gore, Black and Barrett, representing Great Britain, on the grounds of the Longwood Cricket club, Boston. The trophy has since been held by the United States National Lawn Tennis association and the contest will consequently be played in this country, the place and date being agreed upon by common consent of the two associations. President James Dwight of the United States National Lawn Tennis association will appoint a committee to take charge and arrange all matters concerning the contest.

Captured the First Big English Racing Event.

LONDON, April 30.—At the Newmarket first spring meeting today R. S. Sievier's 10,000 guinea filly Sceptre won the first classic event of the year, the 2,000 guineas stake, defeating the favorite, Mr. Gubbins' Ard Patrick, and Mr. Sievier's Duke of Westminster, with which Sceptre will later contest in the Derby. Pistol was second and Ard Patrick third. Fourteen horses started.

King Edward was present and showed considerable satisfaction at the victory of the offspring of his noted horse, Persimmon. J. H. Martin rode Pistol and came in two lengths behind the winner, while Jenkins piloted Ard Patrick, which finished third, three lengths away from J. R. Keene's Cheiro. Mr. Keene's Kearsarge was also among the runners. The betting was 4 to 1 against Sceptre, 50 to 1 against Pistol and 9 to 2 against Ard Patrick.

E. W. Harden's Daily New York Business Letter

SECOND ADVANCE IN TANK PLATES WAS ANNOUNCED

Manufacturers Have Raised the Price 10 Cents Per 100 Pounds.

CLEARING HOUSE ACTION

All Trust Companies Organized in the Future and Permitted to Clear Through a Member of the Association Must Have a Cash Reserve.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, April 30.—Steel plate manufacturers again have taken the situation by the horns, and independently of the association or pool have advanced the price of tank plates 10 cents to $1 98 per 100 pounds, and of all other grades of steel plates accordingly. This quotation of $1 98 per 100 pounds is given as "New York," and is equivalent to an advance of $2 a ton over the prices that have been obtaining. It makes, also, an advance of $1 a ton over the association's minimum quotation of $1 78 for 100 pounds, as fixed at its latest meeting. It will be remembered that during the first week in April manufacturers advanced prices $2 a ton, independently of the association conditions, therefore, is the second advance that has occurred within a month. Manufacturers insist that they are justified in this action by trade conditions, and it is altogether likely that the association will meet very shortly for the purpose of officially advancing its quotations to a parity with the prices already established by manufacturers. As one trade authority put it today: "There is no use in quoting a thing at 2 cents that sells at $2."

Neither this advance nor the one preceding it can be considered a transgression of association authority, for the reason that the members of the association themselves are the ones who have taken action. It cannot be learned, either, that any one firm has taken the initiative in the matter. The Lukens Iron & Steel Company was the first to break away from the association's prices earlier in the month and its example was followed by other manufacturers until the advance was uniform. Practically all manufacturers have co-operated in this second advance and $1 98 for 100 pounds, New York, is now being quoted for tank plates by the Lukens Iron & Steel Company, Jones & Laughlins, Republic Iron & Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Company, Cambria Steel Company, Tidewater Steel Company and Worth & Central Companies, too.

It was stated today by a prominent steel manufacturer that even at these extreme high prices the companies are turning away more business than they are accepting. All of them are booked for at least three months. Few, however, are booked more than four months ahead, for the reason that it is the policy now of the steel plate manufacturers not to glut their books with business. They prefer rather to keep themselves in a position to make prompt deliveries. Their reluctance to take business for distant dates also implies very great confidence in the future of the market. It is openly suspected that manufacturers expect higher prices to prevail and that this is the ulterior reason for their unwillingness to book contracts more than three months ahead.

Meanwhile, a number of large contractors have occasion to congratulate themselves for having placed contracts one or two months ago at prices averaging about $4 a ton lower than those now prevailing. Deliveries are now being made on these orders, and contractors, therefore, who engaged their iron before April 1, have considerably the better of competitors who are buying their iron now. The extraordinary demand for steel plates arises from bridge building, vessel building, and a great variety of construction work.

New Clearing House Resolution.

The action of the Clearing House association in adopting resolutions designed to discourage the organization of new banks and trust companies, and incidentally, protect the association against the possible abuse of its privileges, was discussed with interest in banking circles today. The fourth section of the above resolutions which states that every institution which may hereafter be permitted to clear through a member of the association shall be required to keep in its vaults such percentage of cash reserve to its deposits as the Clearing House association may determine, is regarded as the most important feature of the new regulations.

A member of the Clearing House association today said that the clearing house committee had not agreed on the percentage reserve that would be demanded from trust companies. He stated that it would be some time before definite action would be taken, as no institution is permitted to clear through a member of the association until a year after it had made application. "The fact of the matter is," said he, "that all trust companies should be required to carry a certain percentage of cash against deposits. Of course we would have to take into consideration the fact that a large percentage of the deposits of trust companies are trust funds, and it would hardly be proper to compel them to carry a reserve against deposits of this character. There is no reason why the statements of the trust companies should not be made public every week, as in the case of the banks. However, these are questions for future consideration. It is not likely that they will come before the present clearing house committee for decision."

As is generally known the trust companies that clear through the member banks of the New York clearing house submit weekly statements to the association, but they are not made public. It was stated today that it was unlikely that the clearing house would discriminate against the new trust companies in the matter of reserve, and that in the event of a reserve limit being agreed upon, it would probably apply to all trust companies. The trust companies carry something like $80,000,000 cash on deposit with the banks, maintaining only a small amount of cash in their vaults.

Steel Company Incorporated.

The Ohio Solid Steel Company was incorporated in New Jersey today with a capital stock of $2,000. The incorporators of the company are Martin Backes, Martin Bonnell, T. E. Young and 17 others, all of whom give their address as No. 419 Market street, Camden, N. J. The charter of the new company is a very broad one, enabling the concern to engage in the manufacture of all grades of iron and steel. It was said today that large interests were back of the enterprise and that the present capital would be largely increased when the organization was completed. It is stated that it is proposed to build a large steel plant somewhere in the state of Ohio.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

NEW YORK, April 30.—More men are being put to work on the Michigan at Kokomo, Col., which is now shipping 50 tons of sulphide ore daily. A large ore body has been opened up in the long tunnel, the Breen is driving at the foot of Elk mountain.

Sinking on the Orphan's Home mine of the Aberdeen Copper Company at Lordsburg, N. M., has revealed another large ore body between the first and second levels. Assays show 19 per cent lead, $3 gold, 9 per cent copper and 14 ounces silver.

A movement has started for the establishment of a mining stock exchange at Prescott, Ariz. It is expected that such an organization will not only stimulate mining, but advertise the mineral resources of the territory.

The last strike in the Thunder Mountain district, Idaho, is on Big Creek, where a ledge of hematite 50 feet wide has been uncovered that carries values ranging from $50 to $100 a ton.

Gold shipments from Lewiston, Mont., are averaging three bars a day, most of which is shipped to the mint at Philadelphia.

Samples taken by Boyle and Mair, Park City, Utah, show encouraging values. The ore is lead carbonate and galena and assays 52 per cent lead, 40 ounces silver and $10 79 gold to the ton. The veins varies from 18 inches to two feet in thickness.

Creede, Col., is making rapid strides in production. The tonnage of March was 4,800, as against 3,770 in January. The increase was largely due to the starting of the Humphrey mill.

A strike of copper and gold ores is reported on Wright Creek, 12 miles south of Peach Springs, Ariz. The usual stampede is in progress.

It is reported that the new vein tapped in the Oro Fino, near Escondido, Cal., is 40 inches wide and runs from $25 to $75 a ton gold. There is said to be 50,000 tons of ore in sight in the Reward at Independence.

The first payment on the Buena Vista group near Chihuahua, Mexico, was made by Dr. Dillon of New York, this week. The full price of the property, which was sold to J. F. Johnston, is $300,000.

A ledge of free milling ore 10 feet wide has been found on the Hildewald claim, Bingham, U. C. Average assays show $61 per ton. On the Hunter group, a tunnel is being driven on the vein which averages $25 in gold and copper.

Tom Smith, of Bisbee, Ariz., reports he is getting things in shape for starting up his smelter at Boundary Falls, B. C., and at the present time for regularly maintaining a sufficient output of ore to keep the furnace running after it is blown in.

The Metal Market.

Prices for tin were raised at home and abroad today. The gain at London was £1 5s with spot closing at £130 and futures at £127. At New York the gain was 0.40 to one-half cent with spot closing at 28¾@28¾c. Copper was 2s 6d higher at London, where spot and futures closed at £82 5s. The New York copper market was quiet. Lake closed at 11½@12c, and electrolytic and casting at 11⅝@11¾c. Standard copper for spot to August delivery was quoted at $17.00 to $17.12½. Lead was steady, but unchanged here at 4¼c. Spelter was dull and higher at £14 15s. Spelter ruled steady here at $4 42½, gained 2s 6d at London, closing at £18 12s 6d. The New York market was steady and unchanged as follows: Pig iron warrants nominal; No. 1 foundry northern, $19 00@20 00; No. 2 foundry northern, $18 50@19 00; No. 1 foundry southern, $17 50@18 00; No. 1 foundry southern, soft, $17 50@18 00. English markets were lower, with Glasgow closing at 53s 8d and Middlesboro at 48s 4½d.

High Diving by International Power

RAPID DESCENT WAS DIVERTING TO OUTSIDERS

International Power's Sensational Advance Ends in Drop of 78 Points.

MARKET WAS DISTURBED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, April 30.—A nervous and feverish tone developed in to-day's stock market principally as the result of extraordinary movement in International Power, with several contributory causes, including a stiffening in the money rate, the uncertainty incident to preparations for May disbursements, the outcome of the anthracite labor conference and renewed reports of the need of rain in the southwest. International Power opened at 197, a decline of a point from yesterday's close. It recovered and then slumped by successive stages of from 1 to 3 points to 163. It then rallied 20 points, jumping as much as 5 points between sales, and fell back again to 162. Apparently no bids could then be secured for the stock and it was neglected for an hour until just before the close, when a sale was effected at 120. The day's net decline was 78 points. Yesterday the stock sold at 199, which was the record price. For many days previously successive records had been established. In February the stock sold at 86, and in March the present movement started below 90. It has been accompanied of late by many outgivings of large acquirements of new properties by the company and the payment of a 2½ per cent dividend, which was called quarterly, after providing for the preferred stock requirements.

Had Attracted Attention.

The character of the movement has been viewed with skepticism for some time and has attracted very little outside following. Within a day or two profits of many points have been taken on a few light holdings. The officers of the company could give no intelligible explanation of today's happenings beyond the obvious fact that supporting orders had been withdrawn.

The closing quotation for the stock was 75 bid and 150 asked. This movement necessarily had some sentimental influence on the rest of the market, which naturally was most pronounced in industrial specialties, especially in those regarding which little definite information is known. The declines running from 2 to 5½ points in the American Locomotive stocks, Railway Steel Spring, American Graz. Twine and Colorado Fuel may be cited as examples. The higher grade industrials were not so much affected, although the United States Steel stocks continued heavy. Amalgamated and Sugar were higher, the latter rising 2 points at one time. Spirited buying of Chicago Great Western, a rise of over a points in Illinois Central and over 2 points each in St. Paul and Rock Island had a sustaining influence in the railroad list for a time, but prices gave way there in the unsettled state that developed.

Weak Places Uncovered.

The effect of attempts to market stocks which were previously manipulated was seen in the 6-point drop in Northwestern, 13 in Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha preferred and 5¾ in Keokuk & Des Moines. There can be no doubt that yesterday's action by the clearing house authorities (that institutions hereafter admitted to its privileges must maintain cash reserves commensurate with those required of the members themselves) was regarded as an admonition against the rate of credit expansion and the character of some of the promoters which have been furthered by some of the trust companies. There was some calling of loans following the flurry in certain stocks. The resulting rise in the money rate and the recovery in sterling exchange at Paris apparently had the effect of further deferring gold exports.

The bond market was active and prices were lower in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $3,900,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Quiet Day Among the Cereals

GRAIN TRADERS PREPARING FOR DELIVERY DAY

Receipts of Wheat Continue Light and Price Is Well Maintained.

KANSAS STILL COMPLAINS

Thirty-Five Counties in Minnesota and South Dakota Report Reduction of 20 Per Cent in Spring Wheat Acreage—Corn Quiet.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, April 30.—Grain trade today was largely restricted to changing operations in preparation for to-morrow's deliveries of May options. Back of the changing there appeared to be four bullish stimulus, but so quiet was business that July wheat closed only ⅛@⅜c up, July corn ⅛c lower and July oats ⅛c lower. Provisions closed 10c to 20c depressed.

Considering the fact that this was the last day of the month and preceded one of the four big delivery days of the year, there was a fair bull market in wheat. True, trade was dull in the main, but prices held well the greater part of the session. Bullish news was present in good force. Receipts were small; Duluth did not receive a car. Cables were firm, Kansas reports were still complaining of insufficient rains, and 35 counties in Minnesota and South Dakota reported a decrease in the spring wheat area amounting to 20 per cent. Some fair early buying by the leading corn bulls started prices up well. There was the usual changing, however, July being taken on for May at 1¼c spread. The quietness of the market helped bears in their courage to sell the further options and the advances were not held.

Wheat Rallied Slightly.

Elevator people predicted as much as 5,000,000 bushels deliveries of May, and in spite of the decrease of 6,800,000 bushels in the world's visible supply report prices eased back to last night's close. There was a slight rally at the end, and July, which sold early at 70⅞c, closed a trifle better than yesterday and ¾@⅞c up at 75⅜c. Local receipts were 24 cars; Minneapolis reported 115 cars, making a total for the two points of 139, against 55 for the three northwestern points last week and 220 a year ago. Primary receipts were 220,000 bushels, compared with 600,000 bushels a year ago. Seaboard business in wheat and flour equaled 300,000 bushels. The seaboard reported wheat taken for export.

Trade was quiet and uneventful. The best part of the business was that done by elevator people. May stuff sold for July at 1¾c spread. There was early support, but the discouraging condition of crops and the dullness resulted in light selling that brought a depression toward the close. July sold early at 61¼c, slumped to 61c and closed weak, ½c lower, at 61¼@61¾c. Receipts were only 82 cars.

Small Offerings of Oats.

Oats were very dull and influenced by the other grains. May did not show any inclination to stampede the crowd, as had been expected when that option was thought to be cornered. The May demand at times was fair at current prices. Crop advices were generally favorable. Country offerings were small. Fluctuations were narrow. July closed ⅛c lower at 36¾c. Receipts were 139 cars.

Provisions were weak, influenced by liberal receipts at the yards, lower prices and fair selling. At the opening packers supported, but the outside liquidated to some extent, and, with commission house selling, brought a depressed close. July pork closed 20c down at $16 80; July lard $9 97½@10 00, and July ribs 10c lower at $9 40.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 40 cars, corn 130 cars, oats 150 cars, hogs 27,000 head.

Stocks More Active, With Strength and Weakness Showing in Spots

GLASS, STEEL AND COALERS LED SELLING

Philadelphia Company Shares Were Also Quite Active at Higher Prices.

FIRE PROOFING STEADIER

Electric Firsts Were $1 Lower, but the Seconds Were Unchanged. Airbrake Did Not Sell—Plate Glass Declined—Car Common Advanced.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was somewhat more active than that of the day before, but the tone was irregular, strength and weakness showing in spots. The principal business was in American Window Glass common, which sold over 1,300 shares at 62@62¾, closing rather steadier at 62½, a loss for the day of ½. The preferred was ⅝ higher for a small lot at 94¾, but regular lots offered afterward at 94½, with 93 the best bid. Crucible Steel was also quite active, selling over 1,100 shares. It opened ¼ higher than Tuesday, but closed at 22⅞ sales and bid, a gain of only ¼. The preferred lost ⅛ at 89⅝ for 100 shares. The heaviness in the common is attributed to contemplated expenditures for big improvements which may delay dividends on that issue for a much longer period than has heretofore seemed probable or which may result in the issuing of bonds to secure the amounts needed. Nothing official regarding the matter is known, however. United States Steel was rather heavy and closed with a loss of ⅝ at 42, that price being bid for large blocks. In the coal group there was much more than the usual trading and interest. River Coal preferred selling over 1,000 shares, of which that much was taken by a house supposed to represent insiders. The selling was by a house identified with the Pittsburgh Coal Company. The price was unchanged at 43. The common sold over 500 shares at 13¼@13, the closing price being the lowest and a loss of ¼. Pittsburgh Coal preferred was dull but ½ lower at 90. 347 shares being sold. The common was quoted nominally, but no sales resulted. About noon there was a sudden spurt in Philadelphia Company issues, the buying being by houses with close Philadelphia connections and supposedly for return southern account. Common advanced to 50½, crossing par, but closed at 49⅝ on sales of 827 shares. The preferred sold 661 shares and was ½ higher at 48¼. Fire Proofing common was fairly active and somewhat steadier at 37@37¼ for 900 shares. The preferred was dull and unchanged at 41½. The other sales were comparatively small. Electric firsts lost $1 at 114 and the seconds finished unchanged at 112¼ ex-dividend. Westinghouse Airbrake did not sell, quoting nominally at 187@190. Pittsburgh Plate Glass common was 2⅝ lower at 153½, for 75 shares, and Pressed Steel Car common advanced ½ to 46 for 200. Bonds were quiet but firm. In the quotations Diamond National bank advanced $21 to $390 bid, new high record, on the information that the bank would increase its capital stock from $200,000 to $500,000 and sell the new stock at $400 a share. The market closed dull but about steady.

APRIL A REMARKABLE MONTH.

The month of April, 1902, on the Pittsburgh stock exchange, will always be considered a very remarkable one, as will be shown by a study of the appended statement comparing it with April, 1901, it suffers greatly as to the volume of business transacted, which was not half as large, but in other respects, it shows up well. The number of different securities traded in was fully one-third more than equaled, while an unusual number made their initial appearances, many being active favorites in Wall street. Prices were generally higher at the close than a month ago, and a good many new high records were made, the trading being accompanied by minor speculative features easily recalled. The total public sales were 243,510.4 shares of stock, $332,700 bonds, $6,059.50 scrip, 19,926 16-25 warrants and 909 receipts. These figures compare with 145,362½ shares of stock, $537,100 bonds, $9,-550.00 scrip, 729.09 warrants and 566 2-3 rights during March, 1902, and with 847,311 179-200 shares of stock, $680,190 bonds, 2,420.05 subscription rights, 26 receipts and 170 scrip.

In the following statement is shown the total sales of securities made publicly on the Pittsburgh stock exchange during the month of April, 1902, the opening, highest, lowest and closing prices, the new high records and the changes in the selling prices, compared with those of the preceding month and the nearest ones to that time.

SECOND LARGEST APRIL.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges for the Month Over $17,000,000 Less Than a Year Ago.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for the month of April ended yesterday were nearly $17,600,000 smaller than for the same month a year ago, but were, nevertheless the second largest for any similar month in the history of the Pittsburgh Clearing House association, the record being held by April, 1901. April, 1900, held about $153,000,000, which was the record previous to 1901. Despite the large decrease during the month just closed the total for the four months to date is only $794,300 51 smaller than at the same time in 1901 and far ahead of all other years. The reason for the decrease as compared with April, 1901, is that speculation and investment, both in the security and real estate markets, were then expanded to an unprecedented degree, and the results passing through the clearing house necessarily swelled the exchanges likewise. While the April just finished was so much smaller than a year ago, it was yet over $16,000,000 larger than its predecessor—March—which was partially due to the April dividend disbursements, and to the large increase in the speculative markets. During the month the local money market hardly varied from the conditions prevailing for five or six months past. In some quarters money was easy and borrowers were not pressing, but in others it was quite tight, and not only were loans refused, but some calling was necessary. Prior to six months ago such a state of affairs was almost unheard of in Pittsburgh money circles, but since then it has continued with scarcely a perceptible change one way or the other. The rate for all kinds of banking loans has been steadily quoted at 5@6 per cent, and it is almost certain that nothing was done outside of these limits. There is no immediate prospect of any material change.

The reports of the clearing house for yesterday, the preceding Wednesday and the same day last year are as follows:

INFORMATION OF MOMENT GIVEN BY FIRE MARSHAL

Water Investigators Learn Officially of Stand Taken by Insurance Men.

MAINS NOT ADEQUATE

While on the Stand Fire Marshal McGill Gave a Slap at Sand Filtration in Connection With Present Corroded Mains.

Fire Marshal W. D. McGill, while under oath yesterday, told the water investigating committee of Pittsburgh councils that if the city would put in larger water mains in the downtown district the insurance companies would take off the last "pink slip," which increased the rates $2 a thousand. Mr. McGill testified that he "makes the rates." The committee also learned that in April, 1895, the water in Highland reservoir went five feet lower than it did this spring at the time of the threatened famine.

Fire Marshal McGill's testimony covered the position of the insurance companies doing business in Pittsburgh with reference to rates and water service. He testified that he had been in the fire insurance business for 30 years prior to his appointment as fire marshal. He said the downtown rates were increased some time ago $2 a thousand because of the insufficiency of the supply of water. He said the fire insurance companies who do business in the Pittsburgh district consider the water supply inadequate.

Cost of Larger Mains.

Mr. McGill said the committee which recommended the increase in rates made investigations here in 1900, 1901 and 1902. He said the committee decided that the increased rate ought to remain until an adequate water supply is established. He said if the city would take out the old pipes and supplant them with sufficiently large mains and a sufficient number of fire plugs the companies would be satisfied and call in the last pink slip.

Mr. McGill was asked what he and the fire insurance companies would consider sufficiently large mains in the downtown district and he replied that 10 or 12 inch mains on every cross street would be satisfactory. Supt. A. B. Shepherd of the water bureau had estimated the cost of putting in pipes of this size at between $300,000 and $400,000.

Concerning the water pressure Mr. McGill said that he had seen the water pressure taken at the corner of Diamond and Wood streets six months ago by an employe of the water bureau and it varied from 34 to 80 pounds. He said the companies cared little about the pressure, but wanted to see a greater volume of water.

Slap at Sand Filtration.

In Mr. McGill's judgment the city is equipped with first-class fire-fighting machinery and all that is now necessary is more water. Mr. McGill took occasion to administer a slap to sand filtration by laughing at the idea of running pure water from a sand filtration plant through the corroded pipes now in use. He said that the pipes are so corroded and dirty that they impede the velocity of the water 30 per cent and in many cases the diameter of the pipes is decreased one-half.

He said the extra cost of insurance caused by inadequate water supply would in two years amount to as much money as would pay for a new water system such as the insurance men want in the downtown districts. He said the insurance rates in the downtown section of Pittsburgh were about equal to those of similar sections in Boston and New York.

Mr. McGill suggested that if the 36-inch main surrounding the city and running down Duquesne way were connected across the city in the downtown district it would furnish a much better supply. He said that the insurance rates in the East end and Lawrenceville districts had not been raised, but that the water system in those sections of the city was far from satisfactory. With regard to the South side he said the water system is inadequate. He advocated a fire plug at each corner and one in the middle of each block.

Cribs Not Large Enough.

Marshal McGill said that any legislation tending toward a better water supply in the downtown district ought to emanate from the department of public works. In the course of his testimony Mr. McGill took occasion to speak of the esteem in which insurance men hold Supt. Shepherd as an official who knows his business.

Chief Engineer H. E. Fernauld of Brilliant station was also on the stand, but little was developed from his testimony except that he considers the two cribs at the station inadequate for a city the size of Pittsburgh, but that in their construction they are thoroughly modern and as good as other cities that have river pumping stations. He discussed the valves, the screens for catching refuse, and his testimony agreed with that of Supt. Shepherd at a prior meeting.

Speaking of the situation during the late water famine period, Engineer Fernauld said that sand and gravel "by the ton" were removed from the pumps and many thousand valves were removed, refaced and replaced. He estimated that 6,000 of them were thus removed in March, where ordinarily in a bad month they removed 1,000. He said he believed the cribs were full of sand and gravel, as he had examined one within 48 hours. He believed one intake pipe was damaged and has a diver examining it now. All the difficulty, he said, was caused by the mud, sand and gravel.

H. A. Cochran, who is watchman at the Highland reservoir, and who takes the gauge of water each hour he is on duty, told the committee that in April, 1895, the stage of water in Highland reservoir was as low as two feet. This is five feet lower than it was at any time during the late water scare and considerably surprised the committee.

FULLER SYNDICATE'S GOOD FAITH DOUBTED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, MD., April 30.—The ordinance to sell the Western Maryland railroad to the Fuller syndicate had its second reading tonight in the second branch of city councils and was amended in minor details, which will undoubtedly be accepted by the first branch. Then the ordinance will be passed finally. By Saturday it is almost certain that the Fuller syndicate will be in possession of the railroad.

While the ordinance was before the second branch a bitter attack was made on the Fuller syndicate by Maj. Richard M. Venable, the eminent lawyer, who has been considered the leader of the second branch. His attack had no apparent effect. He said the members of the syndicate live in separate states and cannot be sued for damages if they do not carry out their agreement with the city. He did not believe that he syndicate was sincere in its promise to build a connection with the Wabash. They could sell the property to the Reading and Baltimore would have no redress.

The benefit to Baltimore, in his opinion, would be little, even if the Wabash effected its through line. The Wabash wishes to haul coal west, not east. He ridiculed the idea that the Western Maryland, with its heavy grades, could be made a transcontinental line. He cited the enormous expenditures necessary to make the Baltimore & Ohio a trunk line. Even $20,000,000, he said, could not make the Western Maryland a competitor of the Pennsylvania.

S. A. R. CONVENTION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—The annual congress of the national society of the Sons of the American Revolution convened today, with about 200 delegates. Addresses of welcome were delivered and Walter S. Logan, president general of the national society, responded.

The reports of the treasurer-general, C. A. Pugeley of Peekskill, N. Y., the secretary-general, Capt. Samuel E. Gross of Chicago, and the historian-general, George W. Bates of Detroit, were adopted.

Prior to the convening of the congress the ladies accompanying the national officers and the delegates and alternates of the state societies were received at the White House by Mrs. Roosevelt.

The visiting Sons were guests tonight at a largely-attended reception and dance given by the District of Columbia society at the New Willard hotel.

Bucket in Which They Were Being Lowered to the Bottom of a Shaft Overturns.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 30.—Three men met death in a shaft at the filtration works in the northeastern part of the city today by the overturning of an iron bucket in which they were being lowered to the bottom of the 320-foot shaft.

The unfortunate victims fell 105 feet, having descended only 15 feet when the bucket overturned. The dead are: Grover Terneller, aged 35 years; William Yanley, 30 years (colored); John Banks, 35 years (colored).

May 1—The Beginning of Pittsburg's Spring.

Really, we ought to have a special Almanac for Pittsburg. The almanac-makers tell us, probably smiling while they are writing it, that Spring begins along about the latter part of March in this latitude. It may make the beginning, but it takes its own time in coming out into the open and saying: "I'm the genuine, beautiful spring that you read so much about."

But Pittsburg Spring is here today and it is charming. Everybody is in high glee over the outlook, and this store is right in line with the good feeling.

But Summer weather—real hot strong weather—is apt to break in just at the wrong time, and it's best to be prepared. Quite a number of suggestions in the balance of this news.

The Finest French Corsets.

There is no part of woman's dress which shows greater improvement and changes than the corset.

The shape very often either makes or mars the feminine contour. The French Corsets we exclusively carry—The Fasso, La Premiere, Lily of France and The Pompadour—exemplify best ideas of correct corset making. They conform exactly to what Paris dressmakers concede should be worn.

Each is modeled to encircle the hips and shape the form into correct figure poise, hip and bust curves, with assurance of comfort.

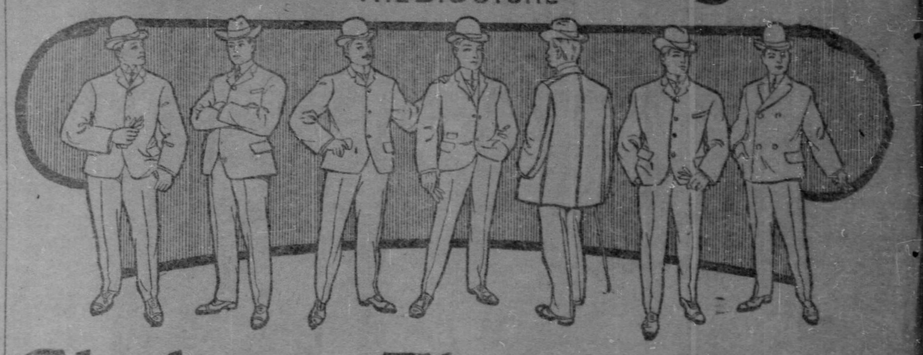
PENN AND FIFTH.

KAUFMANN'S

"THE BIG STORE"



Clothing That's Right.

A Suit or Overcoat may fit right and look right and yet wear badly. Fit and looks can be seen before you buy, but time only can tell about the wear. And right here's the vital point in favor of our clothing. A house may be honest enough, but, if it is igorant or indifferent as to the cloths or clothing it purchases, it cannot conscientiously guarantee its goods, because it doesn't know. WE DO KNOW. There isn't a garment in our stock but what has passed the most minute muster. First the chemical test which shows whether the material is all-wool and fast color; then the searching scrutiny which must disclose the slightest fault or flaw in make, fit or finish.

Men's Serviceable Spring Suits, for $7

They wouldn't probably satisfy a nobby young man, who wants "The Latest Out," but they're good, honest, substantial Cheviot, Cassimere and Clay Suits—with serge lining and hair cloth shape-retaining fronts and will please men who look more to service than to style.

The Fine Suits at $10, $12 and $15.

These are made by expert tailors of the best Woolens woven in this country, including Unfinished Worsteds, Plain Silk Mixed and Fancy Worsteds, Black and White Cheviots and Tweeds, Oxfords, etc. They are equal to the suits which Merchant Tailors make to order at $25, $30 and $35.

The Finest Suits at $20, $25 and $30.

These are the pride of the store. They are the triumph of the most advanced art and skill of American Tailoring. The Woolens came from the looms of England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Belgium and Germany—the same as shown by the most fashionable tailors on Fifth Avenue, New York, and the workmanship and fit, as an examination and trying-on will show, are perfection itself. The most particular dresser will be able to make a pleasing selection from this line, for no tailor could improve on these goods at any price.
